Hundreds at Horticulture Show Opening

Sessions, Exhibits
At Armory
Experts Discuss
Orchard Topics

The 40th Hudson valley meeting of the New York Horticultural Society opened this morning in the state armory on Manor avenue with hundreds of farmers, fruit growers and interested friends thronging among the 60-odd booths which fill the drill shed for the three-day show.

The lecture sessions this morning were devoted to insect and disease control programs for fruit growers in 1957.

List of Lecturers

Participating were D. H. Palmer, Poughkeepsie Laboratory, W. D. Mills, plant pathology department of Cornell University, E. H. Glass of the Agricultural Experiment Station, Geneva, S. E. Lienk, Agricultural Experiment Station, Rolland Reitz, vice-president of the horticultural society and a director of the Western New York Apple Growers Association, and Daniel M. Dalrymple, secretary-treasurer of the society.

Mr. Palmer's subject was "Disease Control—Outlook for Eastern New York." Mr. Mills spoke on "Spray Recommendations," Mr. Glass on "What Changes in Our Spray Program Are Indicated by Resistance of Red-banded Leaf Roller and Other Pests?" and Mr. Lienk on "Mite Control." Mr. Reitz and Mr. Dalrymple presented a summary of cooperative action to stabilize prices of processed fruits in this end of the United States.

To Talk Advertising

Other speakers were scheduled for this afternoon, with the emphasis on advertising.

All spaces in the huge drill armory have been filled with exhibits of interest to area farmers and fruit growers with displays ranging from nursery stock to modern spray machinery, an airplane used in dusting, and a hail suppression unit for the protection of crops against hail.

Duster Plane Shown

Approximately 65 exhibits fill the drill shed on Manor avenue and overflow into adjacent sections of the armory.

The plane is exhibited by Don Webber of Germantown, well-known for his work in orchards, etc.

President Deplores N. Y. Discourtesy,
Personally Welcomes Saud to Capital

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—King Saud of Saudi Arabia arrived in Washington at 11:59 a. m. (EST) today and was greeted by President Eisenhower to the booming of a 21-gun military salute.

Eisenhower, who made his first trip to the airport to welcome a visiting head of state, had said barely an hour earlier that he deplores any discourtesy shown to an official visitor to this country.

Eisenhower's news conference remarks were an obvious reference to the snub of King Saud by New York city officials on his arrival there yesterday.

Eisenhower said he is always obliged to any head of government who will come here and talk to him in the interest of better understanding among nations.

At the airport Eisenhower stood by as full military honors were accorded to King Saud, who flew here from New York in Eisenhower's airplane, the Columbine III.

In a statement prepared in advance, Saud told Eisenhower he looked forward to frank talks which would lead to better relations between their peoples on the basis of "amity and mutual interests." The king is due to remain here three days.

Approximately 100 hail suppression generators have been placed throughout the Hudson valley area as a protection to fruit growers. This unit can be seen at the horticultural show which opened today at the state armory on Manor avenue. (Freeman photo)

Maintain Bingo Ban,
Church Seminar Told

Representatives of Protestant and Anglican churches throughout New York state yesterday heard pleas for maintaining the state's ban on bingo games, even for religious and charitable causes.

The Rev. Dr. Paul Rishell, executive secretary of the department of social relations of the Protestant Council of New York, addressing the annual Legislative Seminar of the New York State Council of Churches at Albany, said the churches, to support their ethical principles must refrain from "all practices which have any relation to a lottery, or gambling of any sort."

than 4,000 strained for a glimpse of the brown-robed monarch stepped from the plane.

Eisenhower walked up to the portable stairway, removed his gray hat and shook hands with the king.

Following right behind the king came a robed aid carrying Saud's 6-year-old son, a polio victim.

Eisenhower's statement of greeting, also prepared in advance, said Saud is valued as "a great leader" just as was his late father, Ibn Saud. Eisenhower said:

"I look forward to the strengthening and reaffirmation of this valued friendship through the opportunity provided by this visit for fruitful discussions of problems important to both our countries."

Taking Saud by the arm, Eisenhower led him to a waiting line of foreign ambassadors and U. S. officials. Secretary of State Dulles was among them.

Eisenhower then led the 55-year-old king to a position facing the honor guard.

As the Army Band struck up the Saudi Arabian and the U. S. anthems, the two leaders stood erect. Eisenhower held his hat over his heart, the king clutched his brown abaya, or full-length robe.

After taking the salute, Eisenhower and Saud, with the Presi-

200 Policemen
Are at Funeral

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP)—More than 200 policemen attended the funeral today for Patrolman Frederick E. Pettit, killed Sunday in a $2,000,000 fire.

Policemen came from several communities. After the funeral, they marched through the streets.

Pettit was crushed to death when a wall collapsed. Seven business buildings in Broadway were destroyed.

IBM Reports
Record Year
During 1956

Completion of the Kingston plant and plans for an engineering laboratory here were noted in the 1956 business report of International Business Machines Corp., which, it was announced by Thomas J. Watson Jr., president, produced and sold more products last year than in any previous year.

Gross income from sales, services and rentals in the United States totaled $734,339,780 compared with $563,548,792 in 1955, an increase of $170,790,988, Mr. Watson reported Tuesday in New York city.

Shares $13.10

Net income for 1956 was $68,784,510, equal to $13.10 a share on the 5,251,118 shares outstanding at the year end. For 1955 net was $55,872,633, or $10.64 a share, on the same capitalization. Due to stock dividends, the number of outstanding shares increased from 1955 through 1956 to 5,251,118 from 4,098,471.

Construction was completed on a new plant here, providing 781,000 square feet of manufacturing space, and, under a U. S. government necessity certificate, a 96,000 square foot research laboratory addition at Poughkeepsie, the report noted.

New Buildings Planned

Among the additional facilities planned by the business machine company are an engineering laboratory with 160,000 square feet in Kingston for work on air defense, and a new research center at Yorktown, Mr. Watson said.

In addition school buildings are being constructed at Endicott and Poughkeepsie of 113,000 and 124,000 square feet, respectively, he said.

IBM also has announced plans for a 56,000 square foot plant for the manufacture of supply items for its equipment at Sherman, Tex.

Big Investment

In 1956, increased business volume and replacement of obsolete equipment required a capital investment of $208,443,483 in rental machines and parts, factory and office equipment, land and buildings. Discontinued and obsolete equipment of $28,668,095 was written off and charged against reserves.

Nearing completion at Oswego, N. Y., is a 406,000-square foot plant and laboratory. Construction also is proceeding on facilities comprising 411,000 square feet at San Jose, Calif.; 550,000 square feet at Rochester, Minn., and 871,000 square feet at Lexington, Ky.

Bridge Travel Less in 1956,
Local Ferry Traffic Up 23.8

Three Hudson river bridges, under control of the New York State Bridge Authority, lost traffic in 1956 due to opening of the Tappan Zee thruway span, it was reported today, but total travel over them last year was above advance estimates of traffic experts.

Travel over the three spans; the Mid-Hudson, at Poughkeepsie, Rip Van Winkle at Catskill and the Bear Mountain Bridge last year was 7.7 per cent under the 1955 total, but Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry travel went up by 23.8 per cent.

The Mid-Hudson was the only span to show an increase for the year and that was a mere .3 per cent. Travel on the Bear Mountain Bridge dropped 24.3 per cent and that on the Rip Van Winkle went down 9.4 per cent.

Score for Three Spans

The three bridges clocked 7,176,898 vehicles in 1956 against 7,777,012 in 1955.

A report by the bridge authority noted, however, that "it is appropriate to note that Madison-Hyland, traffic engineers for the authority, in their report

Improved
Jet Plan
Announced

Smaller Landing
Strips Feature

New York, Jan. 30 (AP)—A jet airliner design which would spread the engine exhaust all along the trailing edge of the wing, to provide lifting power as well as forward thrust, was outlined to the nation's top aviation scientists today.

Designer John S. Attinello said the design would enable a large jet-powered transport plane to rise or descend almost vertically, operating from tiny landing strips only about twice as long as the aircraft themselves.

Not Much Difference

"Outwardly the jet wing need be little different from present-day aircraft, except that the exit of the jet engine or engines will terminate in an elongated slot directed over a trailing edge flap," Attinello told the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences in a prepared paper. He is assistant chief of research for the aircraft division of Fairchild Engine and Airplane Co., Hagerstown, Md.

"Two important shortcomings of jet aircraft, the landing and takeoff performance and objectionable jet noise on and near the airport, should be markedly improved with a jet-wing configuration," he said.

Just Getting Attention

Attinello said the aerodynamic, thermodynamic and structural problems of the jet wing "are only now receiving serious attention" and that from all indications, the advantages of the design merit the research effort needed to produce a practical experimental model.

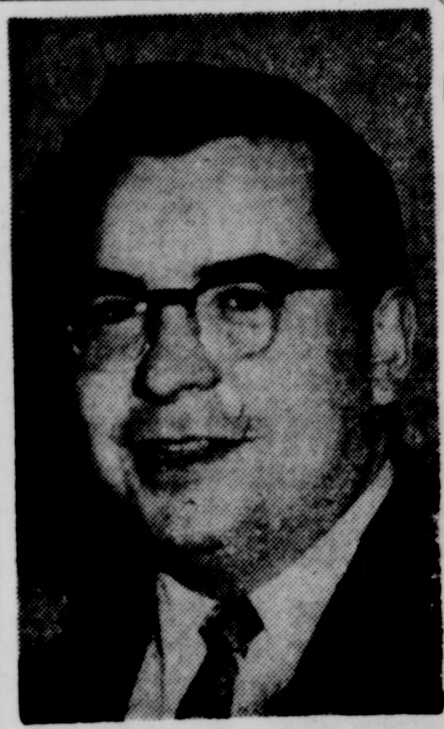

A design for a smaller type of vertical-takeoff craft, a one-man vehicle of the Flying Platform type called the "Flying Flash Bulb," was presented by German-born Peter K. Kappus, director of new product planning at the General Electric flight propulsion laboratory in Cincinnati.

Coming in 10 Years

The device was named for its transparent globe shielding the pilot, and the cylindrical base housing the power plant.

Kappus predicted that designs of the Flying Flash Bulb type, intended for short range and highly maneuverable flight,

W. S. KEYSER
Alderman Is Chairman of Heart Fund

William S. Keyser of Kingston will serve as 1957 Heart Fund Chairman, Mrs. Vincent G. Connelly, chairman of the Ulster County Heart Chapter, said today.

Mr. Keyser of Sweet & Keyser Funeral Service is alderman of the Second ward in Kingston. A veteran of World War 2, he is a member of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. He is active as a member of Kiwanis Club and serves on the advisory board of Salvation Army and Rip VanWinkle Council, Boy Scouts of America and other service groups.

Alderman Keyser succeeds Attorney S. James Matthews who served as chairman on successful Heart Fund appeals in 1955 and 1956.

Contributions to Heart Fund support research, education and community service carried on in Ulster county. Seventy per cent of all funds given by county people to this cause, is used in Ulster county programs. Thirty per cent of the portion turned over to American Heart Association, automatically is earmarked for research.

In addition the Ulster County Heart Chapter has contributed to special research projects approved by American Heart in New York state and Pennsylvania. In 1956, $1700 additional funds were given in support of these local cardio-vascular research programs.

Announcement of the appointment of heart chairmen serving in the towns of Ulster county, will be made shortly as well as the names of committee members to serve with Alderman Keyser in the 1957 Heart Fund Campaign which opens February 1.

Opponent Calls
Doctrine Move
To Declare War

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution comes up for a House vote today with both friends and foes predicting passage by a lopsided margin.

House passage would send the bill to the Senate, where a similar measure is still being considered in committee.

Chairman Gordon (D-Ill.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee forecast an "overwhelming" House vote for the bill because, he said, its defeat would be "misinterpreted throughout the world... with consequences damaging to our own vital interests and security."

Opponent Quits

Rep. Lawrence Smith (Wis.), a senior committee Republican who led the opposition, said "I know when I'm licked."

Some Democrats attacked Eisenhower's Middle East policy during debate yesterday, but said they had no choice other than to vote for the resolution now that it has been publicly presented.

Some House leaders estimated there would be fewer than 75 "no's" on the final rollcall. That would be a stronger showing than the 262-146 test vote yesterday by which the House agreed to bar any floor amendments to the measure.

That action virtually assured passage of the resolution substantially as Eisenhower asked. It would authorize use of U. S. armed forces in the Middle East in case of open Communist aggression there, and it provides for using up to 200 million dollars out of present foreign aid funds for military-economic aid to the strategic area.

Senate Chances Better

In the Senate prospects for action were brightened yesterday by a foreign relations-armed services committee decision to hold a broad review of U. S. Middle East policy since 1946. Democratic demands for the inquiry had threatened to delay the bill.

There appeared to be some division in the House Foreign Affairs Committee over what to do about Middle East policy once the resolution is disposed of.

Rep. Zablocki (Wis.), a senior committee Democrat, said he would urge Gordon to have the group seek some solutions to Middle East problems on its own, in addition to "prodding the executive department for solutions."

Zablocki referred to internal Middle East questions like the Israeli-Arab and Suez Canal disputes. The Eisenhower resolution

Brett Says Fire
Loss Is $128,587

A survey of the city's fire-protection facilities is proposed by Fire Chief James M. Brett in his annual report released today.

Immediate appointment of at least 10 firemen and a fire captain was requested and the chief advised consideration of building at least two more volunteer firehouses to serve growing areas of the city.

Says Code Needed

An adequate fire-prevention code was also urgently needed, he said, and he advised consideration by the Common Council of a code (edition of 1956) "as promulgated by the National Board of Fire Underwriters for cities of this size."

The report showed a 1956 fire loss of $128,587, which was considerably above the 1955 total because of damaging fires at the Stuyvesant Hotel and the Sea Grill Restaurant and hotel. The 1955 loss was $36,831.58.

470 Fire Calls

The department answered 470 fire calls in 1956, and of these 319 were telephone alarms. Of 65 bell alarms 30 were for fires and 35 were false alarms. The department received 37 "verbal reports" of fires.

Recommended also in the report is the purchase of two 1,250 GPM pumping engines. "One would replace a 19-year-old 'worn out' engine at Central station and the other would go to the A. H. Wicks Company, which has no pumping engine."

Also needed, the report said, is a heavier chief's car, a new truck to replace the 17-year-old fire alarm service truck, and a squad truck or other apparatus for the Wiltwyck Hose volunteer company, which at present has none.

The present chief's car, he noted is seven years old, and is unreliable as an emergency vehicle, and the fire alarm service truck is "worn out and inadequate for present-day needs."

Reserve Hose Needed

Also proposed was the purchase of 5,000 feet of 2½-inch and 1,500 feet of 1½-inch fire hose. This, he said, is needed "in order to cope with the deficiencies and exigencies of the

Shokan

Shokan, Jan. 29 — Attorney Catherine Carlson attended the New York State Bar Association annual conference in New York Friday and the alumni luncheon at the Hotel Commodore.

Mrs. Earl Dean, formerly of Ashokan and Woodstock, was a guest recently at the home of her friends, Mrs. Earl Elmendorf.

Murray Slavin, 37, who died recently in Kingston, was born in Brooklyn in 1900. He and his wife, the former Catherine Walker, bought the Ephraim Weeks place and moved here in April 1946. An accountant for several Kingston merchants, Mr. Slavin had also owned a fruit farm in Germantown.

Raymond and Elizabeth Rodgers of Kyserike were Shokan callers Monday.

Observing his birthday January 31 is Merlin DuBois of Glenford, World War 2 veteran, who was raised at Ashokan. He is one of four children of Lemuel and Jessie Winne DuBois. He attended Kingston High School and served with the 774th Tank Battalion under Gen. George Patton of the Third Army.

Mrs. P. T. Sahlbeck, who died January 18 at the age of 77, was a resident of the west end of the village for many years.

I. Coffin with his family moved to the Beechford Farm house from Albany, recently.

Future Farmer Week

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 29 (AP)—Gov. Harriman today designated the week of Feb. 16-23 as Future Farmer Week in New York state. He said more than 9,000 students were enrolled in agriculture courses in 320 high schools of the state. "It is fitting that we should encourage our younger people who wish to adopt farming as a career and as a way of life," Harriman said.

Ford Says America
Must Look Ahead
In Foreign Policy

San Francisco, Jan. 30 (AP)—Calling for a vigorous and long range American foreign policy, Henry Ford II, president of Ford Motor Co., Monday told the National Automobile Dealers Assn. convention that "we are going to have to come of age fast...and act with uncommon sanity, wisdom and unity."

Ford told the dealers: "We can no longer afford to take a passive stand and merely react to things after they happen in a sort of fire-alarm diplomacy. We've got to get out ahead of events and try to lead and shape them to the best of our ability."

Courageous: Humphrey

There was no immediate comment from the Eisenhower administration.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said Ford had made a courageous speech—"particularly significant, coming from an Eisenhower Republican." He said he hoped President Eisenhower will "read and re-read it carefully."

Ford served as an alternate U. S. delegate to the United Nations Assembly in 1953.

"We face problems that urgently demand action," he told the automobile dealers.

"A minor shift in the political sympathies of a few highly unstable governments could give the Soviets any day now effective working control of the oil and the trade routes of the Middle East."

Ford advocated a new look at America's relations with Communist satellites, including Red China.

"Even to suggest that we should help out some of these people or do business with them has been to risk the charge of being soft on communism," he said.

"But it appears our policies have tended to play right into the Kremlin's hands to the extent that they make the satellites more dependent on Moscow."

"Maybe the people of Red China are just as anxious to get rid of the yoke of communism as the Hungarians have demonstrated they are. Shouldn't we give them the chance—or at least some alternative to their present ties with the Kremlin?"

Steve Allen Show
Tops Sullivan Hour

New York, Jan. 30 (AP)—The networks still live in the dream world of audience ratings. There is jubilation at NBC and dejection at CBS because Steve Allen had a larger share of audience than Ed Sullivan Sunday evening as reported by Trendex on the basis of 1,200 phone calls in 12 cities. It was the second time Allen had beaten Sullivan; the previous was Elvis Presley's appearance.

Sunday Allen had as guests quiz winner Charles Van Doren, Pearl Bailey, Lilli Palmer. Sullivan presented Louis Armstrong, the West Point Glee Club and scenes from the Metropolitan Opera's "Madame Butterfly." Allen's rating has been increasing for three weeks. Those are the facts. You can supply your own theories.

A YEN FOR PARADES

The inaugural festivities in Washington set us to thinking about, of all things, circus parades. Lest this train of thought be considered subversive, or at best light-headed, we hasten to explain that it was the inaugural parade itself which prompted these musings.

The parade was indeed a humdinger by any standard. No less an authority than President Eisenhower himself, who has witnessed many a procession during his long public career, remarked that this was "the best parade I've ever seen."

For gaiety there were bands, and floats decked with both pretty girls and pretty flowers. There also was the exciting panoply of armed force—columns of military men marching with precision, missiles symbolic of the nation's terrible strength. It was all well described in a kind of negative way when the President said that it was "less of the raggedy, strolling kind of thing."

Yet it is the "raggedy, strolling kind of thing" to which our thoughts have perversely turned. Military precision was the one quality distinctly lacking in the old-fashioned circus parade. That was characterized, rather, by a kind of glorious, straggling, noisy hoopedness, a kind of color and dash and clamor that made a spectator—especially if he was a small boy—want to break loose and join the procession.

This may seem like an odd sort of time to be dreaming about circus parades. Yet what better time is there for it than now, when most of the nation is shivering and the only parade available is the parade of cars hurrying homeward? If this sounds like nostalgia, not only for circus parades and lost youth but for the pleasant, colorful days of summer, so be it.

GOVERNMENT COSTS

It was a foregone conclusion that the administration would not recommend any tax cuts. Such a recommendation would have been astonishing, however pleasant, at a time when the world has the jitters and the cost of living—and of government—stands at a record level.

President Eisenhower proposed the biggest peacetime budget in history, a budget involving expenditures of virtually 72 billion dollars. Now Congress is having its innings. Spokesmen for this point of view or that have had their say, and the job of tailoring the budget has now begun. Some items will be cut, others will be increased.

Eventually a revised budget will emerge. The chances are that it will be about as large as the President requested. Under those circumstances, tax revenue will have to remain at least at present levels to foot the bills. The trend toward higher and higher government expenditures seems to have been well established.

There is one other possibility of relief for the taxpayer, however. That is to improve government efficiency and thus effect substantial savings. Happily, this is by no means a new idea. Unhappily, little has been done to implement it.

All the same, progress is being made. Some recommendations of the Hoover Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government have already been adopted. The size of the 1957 budget requests makes it urgent that we proceed with this means of cutting government costs without reducing government services.

GOVERNMENT WORKERS

Taxpayer's Dollar, a publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, passes on this definition of a taxpayer—"... a person who doesn't have to pass a Civil Service test to work for the government."

That's more than a good gag. A man with two dependents who earns $80 a week must work 4.9 weeks to meet his tax bill. If he has no dependents, he has to work 8.2 weeks. And, of course, the tax rates rise with almost bullet-like rapidity as incomes rise—and the amount of time a man

'These Days'

THE ARISTOCRACY OF ENGINEERS

In a country of low literacy, the educated man is a rare exception. He has status in the community and men respect him because he can read. In a country such as ours, everyone can read, more or less, and therefore the educated man does not stand apart as unique.

In a country of widespread illiteracy, everybody knows what an educated man is. He is one who can read. In a country such as ours, the definition is not so simple. For instance, those who like to call themselves intellectuals are usually specialists in a particular field. Often, they disdain those who are not like themselves. I have a friend who has several degrees and has worked in about 30 languages or dialects but whom the intellectuals look down upon because he holds to certain unpopular views. The intellectuals go by styles and he is not stylish.

Nowadays, a bombastic campaign is afoot to get young fellows to go into some field of engineering. Colleges push the sciences as though they were the sum total of human knowledge. It is therefore with some interest that I read a speech by Henry T. Heald, president of the Ford Foundation who is himself an engineer. He said:

"Neither the shortage at home nor the increased output abroad are reasons for futile fright. We ought to be concerned about engineering numbers and quality regardless of what Russia does...."

"... We must, I believe, be concerned with three continuing efforts: first, to utilize better the supply of available talent; second, to provide better educational experience for future talent; and third, to improve our methods of identifying potential talent that might otherwise be lost to us and to provide educational opportunity commensurate with ability."

This is a big order. Colleges are smothering talent by a system of majors which narrows the scope of a young person who is loaded down with majors and auxiliary courses, so that the opportunity for intellectual exploration is limited. Colleges are trying to meet this problem, with what success no one can say, except that for engineering and science specialists to broaden their minds more than four years may be necessary or the vacations may have to be cut. By some manner the engineer students will have to get more of the humanities and of languages, of history and economics.

It is not altogether fair to a young fellow to press him into a specialty until he has himself reached the conclusion that that is his life goal and that there can be nothing else. The best minds are those which are doing what they want to do. A student who starts as an astronomer, moves into geology and develops a lust for musicology can find that he is becoming lopsided which is the real danger that besets engineers, as it does physicians or any other group whose specialization requires immense concentration.

The really good mind, in its youth, wants to be all over the lot at the start and that makes for the type of intellectual exploration that can shift a student from a confining specialty which may only lead to discontent and a warped attitude toward life. Intellectual exploration may come late, say in the sophomore or junior year and it often is too difficult and too costly in time for a student to shift from one major to another. He has to go through with what he is doing and hope to catch up with what he wants to do sometime during his life. If he is at all imaginative and sensitive this can be very frustrating. Perhaps the solution might be two years of cultural subjects without any specialization.

The Ford Foundation which has lots of money to spend might survey the entire field of college education with a view to discovering how youthful talent may best assert itself. Maybe the college needs a five-year course. Maybe a two or three week vacation during the Summer would be sufficient, adding an additional semester that way. How would that affect students who have to work during the Summer vacation to see themselves through? It is not a simple problem, all this, and requires broad-gauged thinking. The boom-boom for engineering will not solve it. (Copyright, 1957, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

ABSCESSES AND INFECTIONS

All people, at one time or another, develop an infection such as a boil, pimple, carbuncle or abscess. This is not at all surprising when we consider the fact that every part of our body is always covered by germs, many of which are capable of producing the severest type of infection. The great wonder is our remarkable ability to resist and overcome these ever-present bacteria even when we get a deep scratch or cut in our skin.

However, there are times when our protective mechanism falters and an infection does manage to take hold. Overtiredness, anemia, undernourishment, diabetes or some other generalized disease may cause people to be particularly vulnerable to invasion by bacteria. It is at such times that a tiny pimple may grow into a boil or carbuncle.

In the days before the wonder drugs, it was not uncommon to encounter simple abscess or superficial infection which would travel to other parts of the body and threaten life. Septicemia, commonly known as blood poisoning, was all too frequently seen as a complication of a seemingly innocent condition such as a blister on the heel or a pin prick of the finger. Many a patient 25 years ago considered himself fortunate to get off with the loss of a finger or toe, or even an arm or a leg, following a severe infection.

Today blood poisoning from such injuries is extremely rare. It is found only in those patients who have neglected to obtain medical care or who have no way of obtaining it. Spreading infections can be controlled in almost every case by proper surgical treatment and by adequate doses of the appropriate antibiotic drug. Remember, the old saying, "Where there is pus, let it out," is as true today as it ever was.

Because of the great powers of the wonder drugs, surgeons are able to be more conservative in their handling of infections. Small incisions can often be made in place of large mutilating ones; gauze packing and rubber drains can be omitted in many cases where they formerly would have been considered necessary. A host of surgical infections which used to require hospitalization and surgical drainage under general anesthesia can now be successfully treated, thanks to the wonder drugs, in the surgeon's office under a local anesthetic or with no anesthetic at all.

We must remember that the use of these drugs requires specialized knowledge and only your doctor should prescribe them. If the question of a patient being sensitive or allergic to an antibiotic drug, remember practically no one is sensitive to all of the many new drugs. The proper one can be found. However, it is dangerous to take an antibiotic that one is known to be sensitive to. Also, it is not advisable to work with a part of the body that is inflamed or infected. That part should be put to rest.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
Washington—(NEA)—All the hullabaloo caused by Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey's alarm over government spending increases has given the White House a bad case of jitters.

The White House staff apparently doesn't want anyone in the official family to talk to reporters if there is the least possibility of a departure from administration policy line.

This has been demonstrated again in connection with the economic report of the President, just sent to Congress.

Requests by reporters for an advance briefing session on the report, before its release, were turned down by the Council of Economic Advisors, which prepared practically all of it.

The reason given was that the White House did not want a repetition of what happened when Humphrey discussed the budget message with reporters in advance of its release.

It was admitted that the chances were 99 out of 100 that there would be no repetition of the Humphrey incident if Council Chairman Raymond J. Saulnier were to discuss the economic report with newsmen, even after it was released.

Still, the White House staff did not want to take that 100th chance that there might be a boo-boo.

SO ONCE AGAIN the administration is on record as opposing a full and frank discussion of its policies with the press.

President Eisenhower himself is not involved in this decision.

it was made at an anonymous, unidentifiable lower level.

But this is in accord with previous actions in which any official who does not toe the line on administration policy goes into the doghouse.

The most notorious example of this was in the case of Ex-Sen. Harry Cain (R-Wash.) He got a dressing down by the assistant Adams, and he was not reappointed to the Subversive Control Board because he dared criticize the administration's personnel security program.

President Eisenhower has personally taken Humphrey part way off the hook for daring to question the new budget. In his first press conference of the second term, the President said he had edited and approved Humphrey's statement on the inflationary dangers of government spending.

But Humphrey in his own earlier press conference had gone beyond generalities to oppose such things as special tax relief for small business. This is one of the actions recommended in the new economic report. It also endorses many of the government spending programs Congress may want to cut.

THIS ECONOMIC REPORT is a tremendously complicated document. The President's own part of the report is brief. But it is backed by 100 pages of economic analysis and another 100 pages of statistical tables. It gives the economic justification for administration monetary, anti-trust, farm, housing, wage and social security policies.

These studies are the work of the Council of Economic Advisors and Dr. Gabriel Hauge, the President's administrative assistant for economic affairs.

Dr. Hauge and Dr. Arthur

Arthur F. Burns, former CEA chairman, met with reporters during President Eisenhower's first term. They discussed economic policy background frankly. They explained what it was all about.

This relationship is now apparently changed.

DR. BURNS RESIGNED from the council December 1, and was succeeded as chairman by Dr. Saulnier of Barnard College, who was appointed to CEA in 1955. Dr. Paul W. McCracken of the University of Michigan was nominated to fill the vacancy caused by the Burns resignation. Third member of the council is Dr. Joseph S. Davis of Stanford University.

None of the three is widely known to the general public, though all have high professional standing.

Council of Economic Advisors was established as an advisory agency to the President.

But by keeping the advisors on such a confidential basis that they aren't allowed to talk to reporters, the administration loses its best possible opportunity to communicate its ideas to the public.

So They Say...

I believe the Chinese Communist government should be allowed to take its place (in the UN) because it is the government of China and there is more chance of the UN operating effectively when it does.

Dulles Is Regarded Savior Of Western Europe Economy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 30 — Some day they ought to erect a monument in London to John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State—the man who in 1956 saved England from economic collapse. In fact, he saved the economy of Western Europe, too.

Just now the tide of opinion runs the other way—the British think Mr. Dulles has been unfriendly to them. For the last several weeks inspired news reports from Britain and France—which now have been taken up by irresponsible partisans here—call for the resignation of Mr. Dulles.

Tell Different Story

The facts of this period of undisclosed history, however, when put together tell a different story. They probably will not come out in any "white paper" or in any Senate Foreign Relations Committee inquiry. The Senate has voted an investigation but if the executive decides it would "breach the confidence of other friendly governments" to give out such information, it would be withheld, and there is no way to compel its submission. For to reveal officially and with documents all that did happen could mean the toppling of the Conservative government in London. It could also bring such bitterness between the two countries as would delight the Kremlin.

But some of the main facts can be gathered by reporters from a variety of news sources here and abroad.

This correspondent presents today an authoritative view of what went on between England and the United States before the military intervention of the British and the French and gives some of the impressions formed here in official quarters prior to and since the action taken in landing troops in the Suez area.

Bar Military Use

First of all, the United States in September and October repeatedly told Britain that the Nasser problem could not be handled by military force. The United States Government insisted that the canal dilemma must be a matter of painstaking negotiation, that it was important to retain the friendship of the Arab states, and that this would not be the case if military force were used toward any of them, particularly against Egypt.

Accordingly, Mr. Dulles tried various approaches and finally came up with a plan for a Canal Users Association, which was to be the foundation for a future settlement by peaceful means. This plan was temporarily put aside in October. But the dispatches from London and Paris have erroneously insisted ever since that this was a repudiation by Mr. Dulles of his own scheme. The truth is just the opposite. When the Secretary of State learned that the British and French were going to use force anyhow, he felt that he should disassociate the United States immediately from any program which might even remotely be considered in the Arab world to be a connivance with the British and French to secure their objectives by military force. His withdrawal was a protective step.

Knew of Mobilization

All during the last three weeks of October, 1956, the United States Government was reiterating through various channels to the London and Paris governments its view that military force should not be used. Intelligence reports from abroad told the Administration here of the mobilization of ships and equipment for a landing in Suez. When the President and Secretary of State said publicly that the United States had not been "consulted," they were being literal about the fact that the timing of the ultimatum and the nature of the move given to the world were not known in advance.

The use of force itself, however, had been discussed previously with the American government. Failure to "consult" the United States on the ultimatum was due to the fact that the British and French knew the United States would not give its consent.

Inside the Eisenhower administration among the members of the Cabinet there still is puzzlement. It is incomprehensible to them that the British should have embarked on such an adventure at all. As one of them put it, no general starts a military movement without making sure his supply line is secure. Didn't the British realize that, once they used military force, the pipelines in the Middle East would be blown up at once and the canal blocked?

Nobody here on the inside understands why such an expedition was ever authorized by the British Cabinet. But when it came, the duty of the United States was to save the British and France from a economic disaster. Had America sided with its Western allies at the time, the last oil pipeline in Syria would have been blown up. Then Western Europe would, indeed, have been in a terrible plight. A whole economy would have collapsed because there was not enough oil immediately available at that time from any other source to keep the economy of Western Europe going. Factories, homes and military establishments are all vitally dependent on oil nowadays.

Saved Pipeline

What did America, under the leadership of Mr. Dulles, do? The first and most pressing consideration was to do everything possible to prevent the upping of the last big pipeline in the Middle East. Accordingly, the United States promptly took the position before the United Nations that a ceasefire must be instituted and all troops withdrawn from Egyptian territory. This move caused resentment in Britain and France and led to an expression of the narrow view that the United States was "voting with Soviet Russia." But the move did save Western Europe. It gained time—the most precious factor in diplomacy, especially in a crisis that could easily have led to the intervention of the Soviets and a world war. Fortunately, during his illness, Mr. Dulles had at his side the able Under Secretary, Herbert Hoover Jr., who is intimately familiar with the Middle East.

The British-French military resources were not big enough to carry through the Suez expedition. As it was, the action, even for a few days, was so expensive that it nearly destroyed the standing of the British in international affairs. Officials here are asking: How on earth could the British have carried on financially through a prolonged occupation of Suez, with long drawn-out guerrilla fighting, too? Maybe they counted on American help, for certainly only with American help could the expedition have been a success. Why Britain went ahead anyway after America plainly said it would not be a party to the use of military force to unseat a dictator is still inexplicable here.

But while the outcome has left in its wake some bad feeling in London and Paris, the fact is that the diplomacy of John Foster Dulles saved England and the economy of Western Europe. Instead of there being a "disaster in the Middle East," for which the Democratic partisans were recklessly saying America was responsible, it was Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Dulles who saved the world from disaster.

Those American boys who now aren't being drafted would today be in uniform. American business would be on a war basis, and gas rationing would have been imposed here in November but for the forbearance and skill of the Secretary of State. Some day in Britain, when they get all the truth, they will realize that in the last three months of 1956 John Foster Dulles saved them and the Free World from an economic disaster of frightful magnitude. AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Chicago, Jan. 29 — The story of the proxy-raids by clever opportunists like old-time county-seat tax-sharks is developing into one of the big economic episodes of our time.

In the Penn-Texas raid on Fairbanks, Morse of Chicago, we find Leopold Silberstein, a German refugee, allied with two old West Pointers, Maj. Gen. Buck Lanham and William Halligan, a Chicago manufacturer of "electronics." Halligan sold his firm, called Halligan's, to the Silberstein "complex" of which Penn-Texas is the nucleus.

Buck and Bill were classmates at the military academy, but Halligan, in his second year, violated the quaint verboten which provides that no cadet may have any horse, dog, moustache or wife. During his plebe year he asked the Catholic chaplain, Father John Carroll, to bring up some girls for the lonely-hearts hops, which were especially poignant for plebes because the plebes were not allowed off the post from Beast Barracks to June Week. Father Carroll's first bevy included Miss Katherine Margaret Fletcher, of New Rochelle, and one Sunday afternoon in 1923, at St. Peter's Church on Barclay street, New York, the corps of cadets lost one plebe from Boston and Kitty Fletcher got married. It was a profitable merger from the academy's standpoint, however. They sent two sons to the Point. Miss Kitty was a brunette. Mrs. Halligan's hair is pure white.

Lanham had a thorough career in action and staff. In his latter stages he was thrown into Eisenhower's bureaucracy at NATO outside Paris. His last formation with troops was the Infantry Division in Germany. When he retired, he found himself in a fantastic alliance with a character known as Dave Karr. He should have had better sense because Karr tried to intimidate him at their first encounter. However, he did hook up with this blubbery, name-dropper and soon found himself poring over Peore's Almanac, the corporate stud-book, scrutinizing company statistics for signs of weakness. He and Karr would hat-pin companies which had skipped dividends, slumped in sales and otherwise declined. Then they would send letters to this effect:

"Have you considered that your company may be in a vulnerable position via a vis proxy raiders who may be moving in?"

The letter then would propose a clinical conference with Lana-ham and Karr whose corporate title was "Market Relations Network." Lanham now says this was a silly dam cud of words meaning nothing.

They had phone calls from a dozen companies and this approach has become common in this field. Board-room officers are doing buck-jumps because it has become a habit among the brains to deal themselves in for bonuses and pensions. The actual raids of Bob Young on New York Central and Silberstein on a whole bunch of companies have raised wild alarm.

Within five months, Lanham wrenched free of Karr and threw in with Silberstein, who had been a client of Karr for "Public Relations." Now, Karr was on the outs with both his old partners. Karr joined Silberstein's opposition, especially Fairbanks-Morse, of Chicago, while Lanham developed a bel-scient loyalty to Silberstein. Halligan got into the deal by selling Silberstein his own company, called Halligan's, which makes gadgets, and taking a job in the Penn-Texas complex.

These two defend Silberstein, and Lanham exclaimed today: "This guy is a nova."

"He is what?"

"A nova; astronomy. An exploding star."

Ordinarily Silberstein boasts of his wandering in exile, his acquisition of citizenship in Portugal, whose soil he has never trod, and his naturalization as an American.

Lanham is not allowed to do any business with the government because he is a retired, pensioned officer. But he is in legal enterprise. He is making a little money after a thousand years in a soldier's suit. If he were an old army files and/or politicians at a cocktail party and talk turns to commerce, Buck has freedom of speech, hasn't he?

Council Challenged

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—An organization of Evangelical churchmen challenged the National Council of Churches today on the issue of free radio and TV broadcasting of religious programs. National Religious Broadcasters (NRB) claiming to represent most Protestant broadcasters not related to the council, is contending for paid, not free, air time. The dispute goes back to the early days of radio. As it stands today, the council has reached agreement with the National Assn. of Radio and Television Broadcasters (NARTB) on a policy calling for stations and networks to provide substantial amounts of free time for religious broadcasting.

Saugerties Polio Mother's March Set for Tonight

Porch lights throughout the village of Saugerties will go on at the sound of the fire siren tonight at 7 o'clock as more than 100 women canvassers go on the annual Mother's March on Polio.

In some areas outside the village canvassers will have called during the day.

"Whatever time the volunteer calls at your home, welcome her and give your contribution, great or small for the fight on polio," John W. Davis, Saugerties town chairman said.

County Total $32,606

"Your contributions in the past have made it possible for Saugerties to conduct a successful campaign. Of the $32,606 raised in the county during 1956, Saugerties contributed $2,800," he said.

The money collected in Ulster county is used for county patients. We are still caring for 36 old cases plus five new cases reported in 1956, Mr. Davis said.

There are two respiratory cases in the county which cost the county chapter $828 per month.

Contributions this year will enable the National Foundation to continue in its work to fight this dread disease, to care for the more than 80,000 persons who have already been victims and to supply the Salk vaccine to everyone in the country.

Vaccine Available

Vaccine is now available to all persons up to 40 years of age and everyone up to this age is urged to have the inoculations at once, Mr. Davis said.

The canvassers will inquire the number in your household and the number who have been vaccinated.

This information is needed to immunize all citizens and to determine the cost to the foundation to supply the serum.

Used Names, He Thinks

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—A government attorney expressed the opinion today that brokers sold Crowell-Collier stock to such prominent people as Adlai E. Stevenson and Thomas E. Dewey to make it easier to sell the securities to others. Emphasizing that this is his personal view, Edmund H. Worthy told a reporter he thinks this explains why the brokerage firm of Elliott & Co. had these people on its customer list. Worthy is heading an investigation for the Securities and Exchange Commission into the issuance of four million dollars worth of debenture bonds by Crowell-Collier Publishing Co., former magazine publishers. Elliott & Co. sold the bonds in 1955-56. At the hearing, which goes into its 11th day today, it has developed that Elliott & Co. sold Crowell-Collier stock to Stevenson, Dewey, radio commentator Lowell Thomas and movie producer Louis B. Mayer, among others.

CONSTIPATED?

new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks

without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H stimulate it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

AND, OF ALL LAXATIVES, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk that activates normal colonic reflexes. So effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy. SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98¢ for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Man Is Treated For Frost Bite

Martin Coons, 82, of Clay Road, Port Ewen, was taken to the Kingston Hospital early this morning by the Schultz Ambulance service for treatment for frost bite after he had been reported walking along the road bare-footed, in shirt sleeves carrying his hat and coat on his arm. His feet were reported to have been badly frozen.

Mrs. Bertha Shuman of Ulster Park reported at 1:50 a. m. today to the sheriff's office that she had seen a man walking barefoot on the road. Deputy Sheriff Charles Dullea was assigned and while cruising near Port Ewen he saw the ambulance headed for the hospital with a man in the vehicle.

Visiting the Coons home he reported Mrs. Coons told him her husband had gone to bed and when she checked later he was missing. She dressed and him en route home. She summoned the ambulance and had him taken to the hospital for treatment. She said he had been "forgetful" of late.

DIED

RANSOM—Adelbert R., of 294 Clifton avenue, on Tuesday, January 29, 1957, husband of the late Goldie F. Ransom; father of Mrs. Robert Southwick, Mrs. Wharton Kirk, Mrs. LeRoy Elmdorf, Chief Warrant Officer Walter Ransom, U. S. Army, and Donald Ransom; also surviving are nine grandchildren, three great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at the Frank H. Simpson Funeral Home, 411 Albany avenue, Friday, February 1, 1957, at 2 p. m., the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Blue Mountain Cemetery. Friends may call at any time.

VOYLE—Entered into rest Tuesday, Jan. 29, 1957, Miss Jane Voyle of 287 Broadway, aunt of W. G. Keating of Haverford, Penn. Relatives and friends are invited to attend a requiem Mass at the chapel of the Convent of St. Anne, 287 Broadway on Thursday at 7 a. m. Interment at Dunmore Cemetery, Dunmore, Penn. at noon Friday.

Memorial—In loving memory of our beloved mother and my wife, Corana Hayes, who entered life eternal 5 years ago, January 30, 1953, in Franklin, N. C. Peacefully sleeping resting at last. The world's worst troubles and trials are past.

In silence she suffered, in patience she bore. Till God called her home to suffer no more. Some say time heals an aching heart.

But we find this is not true. Our hearts still ache for you. Sleep on dear Mother and take your rest.

For God called when He knew best. Some day we hope to meet her. Some day we know not when. To clasp her hand in the better land.

Never to part again. DEVOTED HUSBAND, CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN

Pullice Found Dead in Hotel

Police were notified at 8 p. m. yesterday that Anthony Pullice, 64, had been found dead in his room at the Holland Hotel, 608 Broadway.

Coroner Francis J. McCordle, who investigated, said death was due to a heart attack. Pullice, he said, had been under the care of a doctor for some time. Peter Telepas, owner of the hotel, telephoned police headquarters to report the death, and officers Floyd Krom and Benjamin Osterhout were dispatched there.

Pullice, who had been employed in the maintenance department of Kingston Hospital, has no relatives in the area, but a sister survives in Philadelphia, authorities said. Funeral arrangements by the Michael A. Gallotta Funeral Home will be announced.

Military Honors Are Accorded to Col. G. L. McEntee

The funeral of Col. Girard Lindsey McEntee, U. S. Army officer, author and lecturer of 500 East Ridgewood avenue, Ridgewood, N. J., was held from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., 296 Fair street, Monday morning and from St. Joseph's Church at 10 a. m. where a high Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. Alfred P. Glancy. Responses to the Mass were sung by the children's choir, assisted by Mrs. Frank Rafferty. At the conclusion of the Mass Mrs. Rafferty played the Star Spangled Banner.

Full military rites were conducted at the services for Col. McEntee who died Thursday at the U. S. Army Hospital West Point.

The firing squad from the First Regiment Combat Team, Combat Armored Detachment, West Point, was in charge of the 136 Field Artillery Battalion, N. Y. National Guard, were Sgt. 1/C Robert Emerson, M/Sgt. Kenneth Houghtaling, Sgt. Robert Houghtaling and M/Sgt. Edward T. Ferreri. Bearers were Col. D. McEntee, U. S. Army; Commander Girard L. McEntee 3rd, U. S. Navy; Chief Warrant Officer Thomas W. Miller; T/M Sgt. W. T. Arquilla; FSC William F. Ferguson and M/Sgt. Donald L. Davis. Members of the military honor guard marched from the funeral home during the Mass members of the color guard stood at attention at the casket.

During the time the body reposed at the funeral home many called to offer their sympathy and condolence to the bereaved family. Included among those who called were many officers from the Military Academy at West Point. Members of the clergy who visited the funeral home were: Messrs. Stephen P. Connelly, the Rev. Robert T. There were many floral tributes and spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards.

The firing squad fired a volley of shots over the grave of the deceased officer, the squad being under the direction of Sgt. 1/C E. N. Malley and bugler S/P 3 W. McDonald sounded taps. The flag was presented to the widow by Chief Warrant Officer Thomas W. Miller of the 136th Field Artillery.

Strong House

tion tackles the external question of Communist expansion.

No Plans for Study

But Gordon, in a separate interview, said that "thus far" he has no plans for a committee study. "We're going to stick with resolutions," he said.

Smith told the House yesterday that Eisenhower's plea for standby military authority "is in effect a request at this time for a declaration of war."

He also attacked the measure for what he called "ignoring completely" the basic Israeli-Arab issue, for offering no "plan" to meet the "real threat" of Communist aggression by subversion, and for authorizing economic aid of the type Smith said failed in the past.

Most speakers in six hours of debate yesterday—the only day allowed for floor debate—used their time to attack the resolution or what they called the "gag" rule forbidding amendments. But many said that, reluctantly, they would vote "yes" on passage.

Grand Jury Gives Report Today to Justice Elsworth

Two open indictments, nine sealed bills and five dismissals were reported by the grand jury in a report this afternoon to Supreme Court Justice Roscoe V. Elsworth.

None of the defendants was arraigned and all indictments were transferred by order of the court to County Court. Bench warrants will be issued for defendants named in the sealed indictments.

Booker T. Johnson, 37, alias T. Booker Johnson, Elijah Robertson, Elijah Robinson, an itinerant worker who allegedly held up a fellow worker, Stanley Krauskaskas, 40, at Milton on January 7 with a shot-gun and took $7, was charged with robbery, first degree.

The second open bill charged Donald Irving Hasbrouck with grand larceny, second degree.

Dismissals were: The People vs. Gerald Burr, grand larceny, second degree. The People vs. Vincent J. Scalfani, criminal negligence while hunting. The People vs. William E. Seidel, malicious mischief. The People vs. George MacDonald, Sr., violation of Section 1897, Sub. 4.

Justice Elsworth excused the grand jurors from further service but they will be held together until the March term of Supreme Court when a new grand jury will be summoned. They will not report unless summoned. In excusing the grand jurors Justice Elsworth complimented them on the conscientious manner in which they had done their work, and thanked them for their service.

Robbery Suspect Fails in Try to Seize Aircraft

Baltimore, Jan. 30 (AP)—A bank robbery suspect tried to seize control of a crowded airplane yesterday, providing a moment of drama in an otherwise routine trip for three federal prisoners.

The FBI said it was investigating the abortive escape attempt by Louis R. Arquilla, 26, one of three Bostonians being returned here from Minneapolis in connection with a $13,000 bank holdup last November.

The scuffle occurred 17,000 feet above ground when the plane was about 30 minutes out of Detroit. Arquilla, his girl friend, Mrs. Frances Barchard, 19, and Martin F. Feeney, 41, a fugitive from a Massachusetts prison, were brought to Baltimore from Washington by automobile and indicted by a federal grand jury for the $12,958 holdup of a Fidelity-Baltimore National Bank branch last Nov. 21.

All three were taken to city jail to await arraignment. No date has been set.

Savings to State Will Be Told by Harriman Friday

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP)—Gov. Harriman will tell the Legislature Friday that his administration, by improving efficiency, saved the state four million dollars and increased revenues by $11,400,000 last year.

The governor also will tell the lawmakers that his stepped-up program of mental health research and treatment has enabled the state to put off construction of a 50-million-dollar state mental hospital.

To Review Program

Harriman will review his administrative improvement program in his budget message, which he will send to the Legislature Friday. The section covering the program was made public by the governor's office last night.

In it, Harriman said his administration:

Cut operating costs of various state agencies by a total of about four million dollars a year.

Improved Tax Law

Improved tax-law administration and thereby boosted 1956 tax receipts by eight million and other revenue by $3,400,000.

Reduced the population of mental hospitals for the first time in 11 years and eliminated immediate need for the new facility, for which annual operating costs would have been about four million dollars.

Saved $700,000 by transfer of the Herman E. Biggs Memorial Tuberculosis Hospital, Ithaca, to Tompkins county for use as a general hospital.

Reorganized the public works and conservation departments.

Harriman said results of his program meant "more prompt and more extensive service with the same amount of money, reducing or holding the line on budgets or redirecting savings to other essential programs without requiring additional appropriations."

Gives Airport Survey

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP)—State Commerce Commissioner Edward T. Dickinson says 6,000 passengers would use airline service each year from a proposed airport in the Oneonta area. He said in a report yesterday that the facility would cost one million dollars but the federal government might contribute half. Dickinson said the proposed airport would serve 105,000 persons living within 25 miles of Oneonta. His department surveyed the air service potential at the request of Mayor Roger Hughes of Oneonta.

Haggle Over Plans

United Nations, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP)—Weary UN delegates haggled today over tentative plans to break the Israeli-Egyptian deadlock over the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba. They hoped to reach common ground before the General Assembly resumes debate late this week. Several proposals circulated among delegates as both the western powers and the Asian-African bloc put out feelers to gauge sentiment in the 80-nation assembly. Heaviest support appeared to be swinging toward a western "middle way" of the road plan to give Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld greater authority to deploy the UN Emergency Force (UNEF) and to give the force freer rein.

Capital Silent

Belgrade Paper Reports Tito May Not Visit U. S.

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—The administration remained officially silent today on a Belgrade newspaper statement that Yugoslav President Tito may not visit the United States.

Mounting anti-Tito sentiment here, the paper said, would make such a visit "lose all sense for the Yugoslavs."

The White House declined comment last night, and top State Department spokesmen said only that they have received no official word from the Yugoslav government.

Solons Jubilant

Congressmen who have been protesting the visit were jubilant.

There have been unconfirmed but persistent reports here that Tito would visit Washington, possibly in April, at the invitation of President Eisenhower.

These reports stirred protests, with the most organized opposition blossoming in the House. A petition was circulated there not to invite Tito, or to rescind the invitation if it had already been extended.

IN THE SERVICE

GERALD L. DEPEW, son of Mr. and Mrs. David S. DePew of Kerhonkson, completed recruit training Jan. 30 at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C. Relatives and friends of many of the new marines were on hand to witness the graduation ceremonies.

Stationed in Hawaii

Pvt. Allan E. Anderson, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton E. Anderson of New Paltz is a member of the 25th Infantry Division in Hawaii. A carpenter in Company B of the division's 65th Engineer Battalion, Pvt. Anderson entered the army in April 1956. He completed basic training at Fort Dix, N. J., and arrived in Hawaii last November. He is a 1950 graduate of New Paltz High School.

Admitted to Hospital

Police were notified last night that Ronald Harvey, 26, of 27 Oak street, was admitted to Benedictine Hospital for treatment of what appeared to be a fractured jaw. Officers Everett Emnick and Gilbert Gray said Harvey told them at the hospital that he had been struck in the face by a man on Broadway near O'Reilly street. He indicated he would give further details after he is released from the hospital. His condition was reported as "fair," today.

Newburgh Man Is Held in Alleged Area Burglaries

Hawthorne, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP)—A fourth member of an alleged tavern burglary ring was arrested last night at Newburgh, state police reported today.

He was identified as David Newkirk, 25, of Newburgh. State Police Inspector John J. Quinn said the ring stole at least $20,000 worth of liquor and money in some 50 tavern burglaries throughout the last six months. One member person is being sought.

Two men and a 20-year-old girl, Marjorie Heckinger, a Newburgh resident who formerly lived in the Poughkeepsie area, were arrested at Newburgh Monday night.

Born 200 Years Ago

Group Approves Senate Probe of Alleged Rackets

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—The Senate Rules Committee approved unanimously today a resolution to authorize a nationwide $350,000 Senate investigation of alleged racketeering in labor unions and industry.

The decision was announced by Sen. Hayden (D-Ariz.), acting chairman of the committee, after a closed meeting which lasted less than an hour. The resolution now goes to the full Senate for a vote, perhaps later today.

Has Broad Authority

The measure would create a special eight-member bipartisan committee, which Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) is expected to head, with broad authority to conduct the year-long investigation.

Hayden said some "clarifying amendments" to the resolution were approved and the $350,000 budget authorized without a dissenting vote in the committee.

The resolution to authorize the investigation was introduced yesterday by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), who is expected to head the special bipartisan committee. It carries no restrictions on which senators might be chosen.

Leaders said privately they expected all eight will be chosen equally from the Senate Investigations Subcommittee, which already has started hearings, and the Senate Labor Committee, which has filed a rival claim to jurisdiction over the inquiry.

Entries, Theft Are Reported

Police were notified today that two local buildings had been entered, and the apparent theft of a shotgun was reported yesterday.

A report at 7:32 a. m., today said the building of Roberts Motor Express, Inc., East Chester street, had been entered and gas was siphoned from a truck, but nothing else appeared to be missing.

Another report at 8:25 a. m., said Blume's Garage, 525 Broadway, had been entered, but nothing was reported missing. Entrance was gained by breaking a window.

Chester Edge, of 72 Garden street, notified police yesterday that a 16-gauge shotgun, valued at $100, was missing from his home. It had apparently been taken, he indicated, sometime between Friday and Sunday.

Want Sanatorium For Research in Business, Industry

New York, Jan. 30 (AP)—The famous Trudeau Sanatorium at Saranac Lake, N. Y., closed two years ago for lack of tuberculosis patients, has been purchased by the American Management Assn.

It will be used as a management educational and research center, the association said today, provided New York state courts approve the purchase.

President Lawrence A. Appleby said the association plans to establish a special management study center, expanding its programs of educational activities for business and industry.

Under the agreement between the association and the Trudeau Foundation, the Trudeau laboratories will continue research activities in tuberculosis and other chest and lung diseases at Saranac and Ironwood, Mich.

Dr. Francis B. Trudeau, chairman of the board of trustees, said relief of responsibility for the maintenance of the sanatorium facilities would help the foundation reorganize and expand its lab work.

The sanatorium, spread out over 90 acres in the Adirondack Mountains, has 60 administrative, medical and residence buildings. It was started in 1884.

Improved Jet

would be on the market within 10 years.

Kappus said that the true VTOL—Vertical Takeoff and Landing—aircraft of the future would go far beyond the current speed and complexity limitations of the helicopter and would introduce "entirely new operational concepts" into military and civil aviation.

"High speed VTOL feeder liners promise to replace not only the airport limousines, but also the short haul transports up to stage lengths of several hundred miles," Kappus said.

Professor Accuses

At other sessions: A University of Minnesota professor, John D. Akerman, accused the aircraft industry of "raiding" university faculties and thereby "undermining the foundation for supply of good aeronautical engineers."

Akerman said that between May and September last summer industry hired 15 aeronautical school, 22 professors and associate professors and 36 research workers, at "unbelievable" salary increases.

By contrast, Akerman said, some companies have cooperated by hiring teachers on a part-time basis or by providing outstanding faculty members with consultation pay.

India imported $274,890 worth of diamonds in 1955-56 compared to $211,890 in 1953-55.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 30 (AP)—Steels continued their rise to lead the stock market higher early this afternoon.

Pivotal issues were ahead fractions to a point or more. There was a scattering of losers in about the same range.

The steels continued their rebound from a depressed performance during most of January.

Prices were higher from the start in an active opening with gains running to 2 points or so. After the initial burst, however, turnover became sluggish and the original gains were pared.

Leading rails perked up in sympathy with steels. Corporate bonds rose in quiet trading.

U. S. Government Bonds improved in light transactions over the counter.

Here is the most interesting hand from this year's Winter National championships, played in the qualifying round of the open pairs where everyone got a crack at it.

One pair got up to four hearts. A few reached six hearts or six trump. Another group went to seven hearts but the great majority tried for the grand prize of seven no-trump.

The seven no-trump contract certainly appeared proper to South. He had located two aces and a king in his partner's hand. Adding these, three tricks to his seven hearts, two kings and an ace gave him a top count of 13. In all instances the ten of clubs was opened and dummy came as a rude surprise. North had his two aces and one king but the singleton king of clubs faced the singleton ace and would produce only one trick.

The standard play was to lay down the king of diamonds, and to continue with a diamond to the ace. The jack had dropped at trick one, maybe the queen would drop at trick two. When this did not happen South would take a deep breath, lead a low spade from dummy and finesse the jack. It would hold and the contract would be in.

A few super experts did not like the idea of going down seven or eight tricks and played for a squeeze instead. They simply ran their seven hearts. If West held both the queen and ten of spades or as many as five spades the squeeze would operate; otherwise they would only go down one trick. Needless to say the squeeze did not work and down one at seven was not a good score.

Clintondale

Clintondale, Jan. 29—Mrs. Mildred Minard has returned from a visit with her relatives in Virginia.

The Friend's Circle met Monday night at the home of Mrs. Marion Jenkins. The devotions were conducted by Mrs. Gloria Satterlund and the program leader was Mrs. Katherine Weller. Mrs. Cynthia Hurd presided for the business meeting. Last Wednesday the members met at the church for an all day sewing bee.

Mrs. Eber Palmer has been ill at her home the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Smith and sons left Sunday for a two weeks trip to Florida.

The fourth quarterly conference will be held at the Clintondale Methodist Church Thursday, Feb. 21 when officers and members of the congregation will plan the year's work.

Frank Dolan is vacationing in Florida for six weeks.

Alfred Zimmerman of Station road has been elected a director of the New York State Horticultural Society.

Miss Ruth Dawes has been named Plattkill chairman for the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Lily Ronk is ill at her home on Main street.

The Ulster County Farm Bureau will hold dinners at the Clintondale Grange Hall Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 12 and 13. The dinners will be served by the ladies of the Friend's Church.

Mrs. Melvin Hurd, a director of Vassar Hospital Association attended the annual meeting of the association held Wednesday night in Poughkeepsie.

Clintondale Conservation Club held a winter-time shoot Sunday afternoon at the property of John Minard on South street.

Clintondale Grange will present the second in its series of card parties Saturday, Feb. 16 at the Grange Hall. Mrs. Ruth Rhodes and Mrs. Fanny Montrola are co-chairmen in charge of arrangements. The Grange plans four such parties during the winter. At the regular meeting of the Grange held Monday night with Fred Eckert in charge a covered dish supper was held before the meeting.

Mrs. Russell Beatty and daughter have returned from a visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kramer of Niles, Ohio.

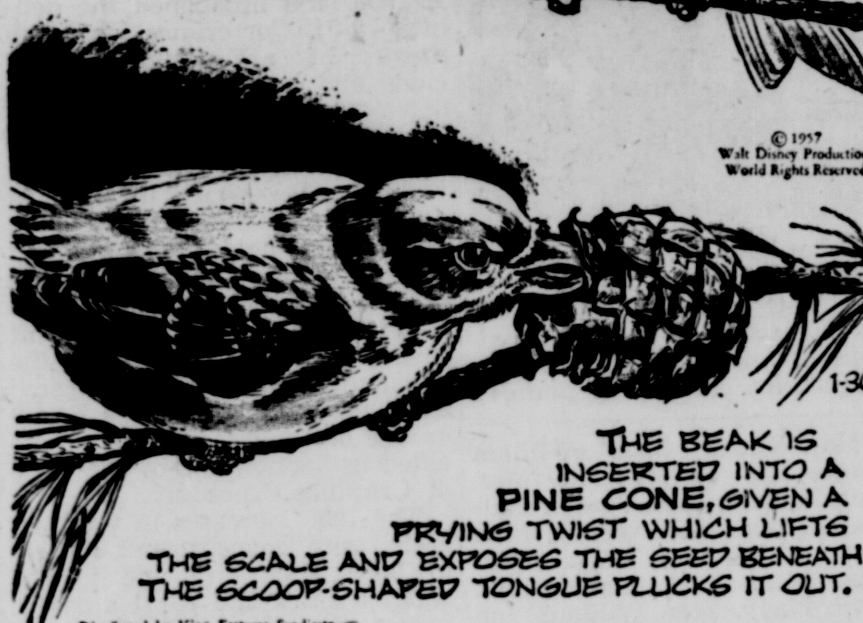

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Elting entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of the birthdays of Mr. Elting and his son, Jeffrey. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph VanSiclen, Clintondale; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Auriti, Millbrook; Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Elting, New Paltz.

No Approval, Ellender

Washington, Jan. 30 (P)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said today he sees little chance for congressional approval next month of a separate new farm program for corn asked by Secretary of Agriculture Benson. "We'll never do it," Ellender, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said concerning the possibility of speedy action. "I'm positive it will never happen." Benson told Ellender's committee yesterday that congressional action on the new corn program "should come well ahead of March 1." If there is a delay, he explained, it will handicap the entire federal soil bank program — under which farmers can be paid a total of $1,200,000,000 for shifting croplands out of production.

Greatest thing that ever happened to the Century

The fabulous new Buick Century Caballero

YOU'VE SEEN many improvements in wagons these past 5 years. But, to use a vivid expression, "You ain't seen nothing yet!"

For now comes a new kind of wagon called the Caballero.

It's the lowest and the sleekest wagon you ever saw—and the most practical wagon ever built by Buick.

You get up to 8½ feet of level deck for "long" freight—wider-opening rear gates top and bottom for easier loading — a panoramic rear window for safer parking. Even your rear-seat passengers get a view unmarred by center posts.

But beyond all that, this one's a '57 Buick CENTURY through and through.

So you ride with buoyant new road-ability—from a new chassis that "nests" the body to a record low center of gravity.

You guide with a new and surer handling, stop on the level even when you have to brake hard, travel with the satisfying security of Buick brawn, solidity, rock-firm steadiness.

Above all, you command with a new ginger here—with a quicker and surer power response that stems from an all-new 364-cubic-inch V8 engine with 10 to 1 compression.

And sparking this great power is a new advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo* that gives you such instant full-torque obedience in "Drive"—it practically eliminates your need for "Low."

The stunning new Caballero—the '57 Buick CENTURY Estate Wagon illustrated here—can be yours at a price surprisingly easy to take.

Or you can have a similar body style in Buick's even lower-priced SPECIAL Series. Drop in and see us—today.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Hobart Students Flee Blaze in Fraternity House

Geneva, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP)—Twenty-one Hobart College students were forced to evacuate the Theta Delta Chi fraternity house early today when fire swept the three-story frame structure.

Two firemen were overcome by smoke in fighting the blaze, which fire chief Louis McGuigan said was believed to have started in a first floor kitchen.

McGuigan estimated the damage at $50,000.

Police said one of the students jumped from a third story window. He was uninjured in a 24-foot drop from his bedroom window to a first floor porch.

Other students leaped from second story windows to the ground.

College officials said that the fraternity normally housed about 40 students, but many were away from the house because of mid-term examinations.

The Rev. Dr. Louis Hirshon, president of Hobart and William Smith Colleges, said a special faculty meeting would be conducted later today to discuss the problem created by the fire.

It was the second time in 20 years that the Theta Delta Chi house at Hobart was wrecked by fire. The original building was destroyed in a fire in 1937.

Seven Die in Fire
Manila, Jan. 30 (AP)—Seven persons died today in a fire that gutted two factories in a Manila suburb. Police said they were investigating the possibility that the fire might have been started by an arsonist.

State Crime Rate Increases in '56

A total of 40,200 persons were arrested for major crimes in New York state during 1956—an increase of 10.5 per cent over the 1955 total and a rise of 18 per cent over 1954 figures, it was announced today by Thomas J. McHugh, commissioner of correction.

About one-fourth of the increase over 1955, however, is directly attributable to a change in the law which took effect July 1, 1956, and broadened the definition of major crimes for which fingerprints are required to include any crime which would be a felony if the person were previously convicted of a crime, he said. Specifically, this change resulted in a sharp increase in reports on arrests for intoxicated driving that accounted for about one-fourth of the 1956 rise.

Data on major crimes are based upon individual fingerprint records reported by law to the department on persons arrested and charged with either a felony or one of the misdemeanors specified in Section 552 of the Code of Criminal Procedure.

The 1956 increases in total arrests were concentrated largely in New York city and in the smaller cities and rural areas in upstate New York. The 22 largest upstate cities showed virtually no change during the last three years.

Adult Group Rises

Arrests of youths 16-20 years old increased 12.9 per cent over 1955 in contrast with a slight decline from 1954 to 1955. The adult group recorded a rise of 9.7 per cent over 1955 and 20.4 per cent increase over 1954. There were 6,565 arrests of youths 16-18 years old, and 3,288 arrests of youths 19-20 years old. Persons under 21 years of age accounted for 24.5 per cent of the arrests in 1956.

Mr. McHugh said 13,789 persons or 34.3 per cent of all those arrested were charged with theft of some sort. This represents a small increase over the corresponding figure for 1955. Among this group were 2,133 arrests for robbery, 4,289 for burglary, 1,284 for burglar's tools, unlawful entry and pocket picking, and 6,083 for grand larceny (of whom 2,803 were specifically charged with auto theft).

Among individual offenses, the largest percentage of increases over 1955 were recorded for rape (21.4 per cent), narcotic violations (16.6 per cent), felonious assault (14.4 per cent) and carrying dangerous weapons (14.4 per cent).

December Decline

There was a decline of 19.9

per cent in arrests for December, 1956, as compared with the previous month. All parts of the state contributed to this drop. A comparison with December, 1955, showed a decline in the figure for New York city, and a slight increase upstate.

Arrests for youths 16-20 years old accounted for 23.7 per cent of all December, 1956, arrests for major crimes. The 16-18 year group showed the sharpest decline from December, 1955. Over the same period, arrests of persons 40 years and over increased.

Arrests in all categories of major crime declined from the previous month. When compared with December 1955, arrests for narcotics violations and for "other major crimes against persons" showed increases. The sharp increase in the latter category is primarily due to the change in the law mentioned above.

The department received and processed 37,770 individual reports in 1956 on the court disposition of cases involving arrests for major crimes. Of these cases, 61.7 per cent were convicted of either the original charge or a reduced charge and 38.3 per cent were not convicted. The conviction rate for the year 1956 was below 1955 experience, but slightly above the percentage for December 1956.

The lower conviction rate for 1956 was accompanied by a smaller proportion of commitments to institutions. In line with past experience, 1956 conviction rates were higher in the upstate area than in New York city.

Fare Hearing Adjourned

New York, Jan. 30 (AP)—A Public Service Commission hearing on the New York Central Railroad's request for a 33 per cent increase in commutation tickets was adjourned yesterday until Feb. 13. The hearing resumed yesterday following an 18-day recess, and was adjourned at the end of the day by Commissioner Aaron L. Jacoby. The railroad seeks the fare increase for its Harlem, Hudson and Putnam divisions. It would affect some 45,000 commuters.

Strike in Ninth Day

Toronto, Jan. 30 (AP)—A strike that halted work on the foundation for a new St. Lawrence river bridge was in its ninth day today. Harold McNamara, vice president of the McNamara Construction Co., said last night his company had talked with labor representatives on general terms only. He said more talks would be held but none were immediately scheduled. Work was halted when 33 members of the International Union of Operating Engineers walked off the job. They protested wages and demanded that their union be certified as bargaining agent.

Strike in Ninth Day

Toronto, Jan. 30 (AP)—A strike that halted work on the foundation for a new St. Lawrence river bridge was in its ninth day today. Harold McNamara, vice president of the McNamara Construction Co., said last night his company had talked with labor representatives on general terms only. He said more talks would be held but none were immediately scheduled. Work was halted when 33 members of the International Union of Operating Engineers walked off the job. They protested wages and demanded that their union be certified as bargaining agent.

CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., WEDNESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 30, 1957

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

On of my readers kindly copied in clear print a long poem I think will be of interest to old-timers of the old boating days and ice harvesting period.

It is called: "Narrative of the Donovan and Rightmyer Canal," and it reads in part thus: "Long will be remembered the winter of 1903-4. For the amount of ice farmed, if nothing more. Three crops were cut from one pond in the creek. They measured from 10 to 13 inches thick, then a fourth crop formed, eight inches or more. And Mr. Rose with his dynamite prepared for war. He sent for Tim Donovan. A man tried and true. And said to him, 'Get Joe Rightmyer for he is true blue. Then get horses and plows and men by the score. We must clear the ice out from shore to shore. Cutting the canal will be your job.'"

Perhaps some readers remember folks mentioned in this poem: "You must cut from Wilbur to the lower dock. The rest we blow up, though it is hard as rock. Then Tim and Rackey set their men to work. And you can swear no one had, time to shirk. The work so well done by Tim and his pal, Was christened the 'Donovan and Rightmyer Canal.' Mr. Rose's attention now turned to the river. The blasts they set off made Ponchockie shiver. But Farrel was there with Mr. Cook. They certainly know their little book. Duffy and Haley were there, too. With long Brannigan to complete the crew. Chief Rafferty went to take in the sight. Went too close to a blast and got a great fright."

dressed up like a lord. We made the trip safely and returned to the slip. Then nearly all hands went ashore for a nip."

Ice harvesting was hard work as the poem tells: "We thrashed and pounded for three days more. Then the ice broke loose from the shore. Donovan wanted the ice toggled fast. But Conklin, had shipped before the mast. Gage said, 'I want you to stay on the Rob, let Tim get the rough hands to do that job. So Rol. Saulpaugh and the boys got a sleighload of line. And made the ice fast in a very short time. Again the Rob started to break winter's grip. Mr. North and Mr. Belcher went along on this trip. This trip was made safely. Gage declared her a winner. Then headed back to the creek for our dinner. Went out again, and at five o'clock she broke her wheel and limped back to the dock. This ends the Rob's useful career. Till Jack Herrick gets her rigged with new gear."

"In the meantime the Dickson had steam and was ready. With Irve Hayes and Jim Dee to keep her steady. Lew Tremper and Roxy looked after engine and steam. The four made an excellent double team. They ran two days, punched their hull full of holes, for which Felix Clare Hickey then made a shoe for the Schoonmaker. And through the canal Brom Van Aken did take her. Hallenbeck and Dave Bush ran engine and boiler. Being a 5th class boat, she required no oiler." Will use more in another column.

Record Broken

La Mesa, Calif. (AP)—Until Mrs. Ida Pierce of Yakima, Wash., came here to visit a daughter, she had never been hospitalized in her 68 years. Even her eight children were born at home. The record ended when she sat on the arm of a chair to admire the view from her daughter's home. The chair tipped over. Mrs. Pierce went to the hospital with a broken wrist.

RETURN ENGAGEMENT—Last November was a slow month for seven-year-old Rickey Spangle, of Brooklyn, Mich. The days marched off the calendar with glue-footed tread. November days always do for little boys who are impatient for December—and Christmas—and vember days didn't see the end of November. Christmas stood still—a month in Santa Claus. But Jimmy didn't see the end of November. Christmas was hurt. The future—and Santa never arrived. There was a November auto accident. Jimmy was hurt. Badly. He went into a coma and stayed there until Jan. 20. Then he awoke and the first thing he wanted to know was whether Santa had come. He had. Come and gone. But a rush phone call by Rickey's mother, Mrs. Patricia Locke, brought him back next day—just for Rickey. So here they are, all happy in Ann Arbor's University Hospital—Mrs. Locke, Rickey and Santa.

Woodstock Quartet To Make Winter Debut

Woodstock, Jan. 29 — The Woodstock Festival of Music and Art, featuring events contained for the most part in the summer months, is rapidly becoming a year-round affair.

It has been announced that Sunday, Feb. 17, local artists will perform in the Woodstock Art Gallery, presenting quartets by Haydn, Mozart and Brahms, at 3:30 p. m.

According to Hans A. Schimmerling, who is arranging the concert, chamber music concerts during the winter season have been neglected during the past five years. He believes that a cultural center such as Woodstock, does not have to limit its activities to the summer. "The intellectual capacity of our town is on a level which justifies such musical expansions into the musically barren seasons of the year," he said. "We need incentives to more offerings of good music. Let's be grateful for the great cultural values which our town has to offer."

The performing artists will be Alice Smiley and Rosemarie Phelps, violinists; Frank Mele, viola; and Hans Cohn, cello, who form the Woodstock Quartet. The community is asked to give a cordial welcome to the Woodstock Quartet which is offering a substantial contribution to the cultural life of the area, Mr. Schimmerling said. Tickets will be on sale at the Catskill Book and Record Shop and at the News Shop.

P-TA to Hear Speaker On Career Discussion
Woodstock, Jan. 29—At the next regular meeting of the Woodstock Parent-Teacher Association Thursday, Feb. 7, at 8 p. m., at the school, Benjamin L. Webster of Woodstock and New York city, will speak on the subject of "Careers."

Mr. Webster has had varied experience in the field of industrial design. In 1953 he conducted a special research study jointly sponsored by the Society of Industrial Designers and the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Since 1954 Mr. Webster has been consultant to Ashton Dunn Associates, a firm of management consultants specializing in executive development and recruiting. Much of the material for his topic Mr. Webster has gathered in the last three years.

The P-TA health and safety committee presented a film entitled "Bicycling Safety Today" at an assembly at the school last Friday afternoon. Grades three through eighth saw the film presented by the Bicycle Institute, and heard Sgt. Fordham, of the New York State Troopers, speak briefly on the subject of safe bike riding. Mrs. John Derry is chairman of the health and safety committee. The executive committee was scheduled to meet at the school at 8 p. m., Jan. 29.

Scout Finance Drive Dinner Set for Feb. 5

Woodstock, Jan. 29—Plans are being formulated for the solicitation of funds for the operation of the Rip Van Winkle Council of the Boy Scouts of America, from February 6, through 16. The usual "kick-off" dinner for the workers will be held in the basement of Woodstock Reformed Church Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 6:30 p. m.

Reformed Church Schedules Services

Woodstock, Jan. 29—The sermon topic of the Rev. Harvey I Todd, pastor of the Woodstock Dutch Reformed Church, Sunday at the 11 a. m. service, will be "Youth—Nervous? Nery? or Nearly So?" Sunday school meets at 9:30 a. m.

The Women's Missionary Society will meet in the basement of the church Wednesday, Feb. 6, at 2 p. m. The program by Mrs. Samuel Campbell, will cover the subject "Millions on the Move," and will be supplemented by pictures relating to it.

Preparations are going forward for the ham dinner to be served at the church basement Feb. 6, beginning at 5:30 p. m. The menu will include baked Virginia ham.

Scientist Church

To Hear Love Theme
Woodstock, Jan. 29—"Love" will be the sermon topic at the First Church of Christ Scientist, Sunday morning. How trust in God, divine Love, brings man sure guidance will be brought out at the service, according to the minister.

Selections to be read from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include (454:18-21). Scriptural passages in the lesson-sermon entitled "Love" will be from Proverbs (3:5, 6).

Ocala, Fla. (AP)—Thomas Cummings beat a train to a railroad crossing and saved his bankroll. Cummings said he had pulled his car off the highway to sleep a while and was awakened by a man who claimed to be a law officer demanding to see his driver's license. Suspicious, Cummings ran. When he saw a train approaching on a nearby track he dashed across in front of it and hid in underbrush, watching the man search for him after the train passed. He reported to the Florida Highway Patrol, which confirmed Cummings' suspicion that his pursuer didn't represent the law. A flashlight and overcoat were taken from his car.

DAR Elects Officers
At January Meeting

At the annual January meeting of the Incorporated Society of Wiltwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held at the Chapter House, new trustees were elected.

They are Mrs. Herbert C. Foster and Mrs. Conrad J. Gross. Mrs. Adam H. Porter was re-elected.

Mrs. Walter T. Tremper was elected to the office of secretary and Mrs. Maynard Mizel is the new treasurer.

Through the courtesy of the Film Library, New York Department of Commerce, a film "American Battlefields" was shown to the group. Projectionists were Fraser Sprague and Charles Utley of School 7.

The film is a realistic reenactment of Revolutionary battles which took place in New York state. It gives a vivid picture of hardships suffered by soldiers fighting in spite of lack of training, firearms, proper shelter and food.

Various fortifications and homes of Revolutionary soldiers were shown including Kingston's Senate House.

At the conclusion of the film, refreshments were served. Trustees were the hostesses and Mrs. Walter T. Tremper presided.

Scouts Complete
Cloth Books for Pre-School Blind

Members of Woodstock Brownie Troop 29 have recently completed their project of making oil cloth booklets for pre-school blind children. The 20 booklets will be forwarded to the Commission for the Blind, New York State Department of Welfare. They will then be distributed among kindergarten and first grade classes for blind children. Their purpose is to teach reading readiness and help speed the integration of the blind children into normal life situations.

Each girl in the troop developed her own idea for a booklet, furnished the materials and assembled them. Many different themes were used. Some books were aimed at teaching the child to dress himself and included zippers, buttons and shoelaces. Others used a "Taking care of myself" theme with combs, toothbrushes, soap and towels. Books mainly for boys included all kinds of cars, trucks, airplanes and ships, while others for girls included a doll and all of the clothes needed to dress her.

Girls taking part in the project were Helen Avery, Judie Buckminster, Carol Cousins, Elaine Cousins, Razelle Champanier, Laurie Gordon, Gail Green, Julie Holmzer, Sherry Horn, Karen Jordan, Nancy Klotz, Jackie Majoros, Karen Mathews, Lillian Melville, Jean Putnam, O'Bryan McLaughlin, Anita Murray, Susie Perlam, Helen Stern, Laurence Webster and Polly Wilson.

The troop leader is Mrs. George Kelly and assistant leader, Mrs. Harry Lawson.

B'nai B'rith Women
Hold Meeting; Hear
Good Grooming Hints

At a recent meeting of B'nai B'rith Women, Victor Basil, Woodstock hair stylist, discussed the art of good grooming. Serving as models were the Mes. Bruce Wally, Harold Shorr and Arnold Pinsky.

Current trends in hair styling were also discussed.

Members were urged, during the business meeting, to aid the annual calendar project. Volunteers were requested to contact the Mes. Edward Weisman or Morton Honig.

Miss Irene Kaplan is in charge of the project for collecting old eye glasses and dentures for refugees overseas.

Hostesses for the evening were the Mes. Merrill Stone and Bruce Wally.

Wasp Waist Is Back According to Rouff;
Crepes, Drapes, Chiffon Take First Place

Paris, Jan. 30 (AP)—Maggy Rouff has brought out what she calls the "languorous line." It has a lazy look.

Rouff fails to settle on a definite silhouette. Even the hems are ready to drop at a hint.

She makes skirts short—just below the knee. But since most of the material is chiffon, it's easy to see that the hems are about 12 inches deep, set for a quick change.

The wasp waist is back, and belted up tight. Often it is marked with an "x"—tucks, pleats or tabs crossing on the midriff.

By contrast, backs may go free, falling in one untrammelled swoop from shoulder to hem. Like other designers this season, Rouff favors crepes and drapes.

Coral and yellow are her favored colors. Dollar-size polka dots spot the scene. Prints often run to cabbage roses. Some woollens have a strawlike surface. Both chiffon and silks have a satiny look.

Cuffs turn up at both ends—at the shoulder of bare-armed models, and at the hem of full skirts, giving them a balloon shape.

Jackets are very short and half-belted, either behind or in front.

St. John to Address
Temple Men Thursday

District Attorney Howard C. St. John will be the guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of Temple Emanuel Men's Club at the home of George Goldfarb, 235 Pearl street, Thursday night. The business meeting will open at 8 p. m., it was reported. Mr. St. John will speak at 8:30.

HELPFUL GUESTS NOT
HELPFUL TO HOSTESS

A hostess tells me: "I run my own house; that is I do my own cleaning, cooking and serving. When I have guests in to dinner I find it easiest to put the serving dishes on the table and pass them around from hand to hand for each one to help himself. When it comes time to remove the plates for the next course, invariably one or two of the women guests at table will get up to help me carry the used plates into the kitchen. I know they mean to be helpful but it annoys me very much and I think it is despoiling to the dinner to have guests popping up and leaving the table. Will you please tell me what I can do about this without hurting anyone's feelings?"

The only thing you can do is to say, "Please don't anyone get up. I can do it very quickly alone."

Tails or Tuxedo

Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon at an evening wedding. My dress is ankle length and with it I will wear a fingertip-length veil. My mother-in-law insists that the men wear tails since it is to be an evening wedding, but I think these clothes are much too formal for my dress and that they should wear tuxedos. Will you please settle this once and for all?

Answer: I don't think that dress more formal than tuxedo is required with a bridal dress that has no train. On the other hand, I cannot agree that tails would be incorrect.

Sending A Valentine

Dear Mrs. Post: I am 16 years old and a senior in high school. There is a boy in my class who I like very much and who has asked me out twice. With Valentine's Day not too far off, I am wondering if it would be proper to send him a Valentine card? Please let me know what you think about this?

Answer: If not oversentimental, a Valentine greeting would be entirely proper.

Have you given yourself an etiquette test lately? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-18, "Etiquette Test," includes a list of questions and answers which readers frequently ask. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Freeman, P. O. ICC Rules Out Bid for O and W

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission said today it has notified E. T. Curley, Utica, N. Y., that it cannot consider his proposal to buy the properties of the bankrupt New York, Ontario & Western Railway for $5,100,000.

The commission made public a letter to Curley which acknowledged receipt of a petition relating to the proposed purchase. "It cannot be ascertained from the pleading precisely what relief is desired," the commission wrote Curley.

No Feasible Plan

The commission noted it had, in effect, closed out further consideration of the future of the N.Y. O. & W. when it ruled last September that no feasible plan had been found either for the present or the foreseeable future.

The ICC at that time returned the matter to the federal district court in New York city, where the railroad entered a bankruptcy proceeding 20 years ago. Officials here indicated at the time that this opened the way for public sale of the properties in an effort to satisfy creditors.

The New York court two weeks ago named two receivers for the company in connection with a federal government suit against the Ontario to collect about 7½ million dollars in back taxes.

Girl, Missing From Home, Is Returned

Deputy Sheriff Peter Peterson was called last evening to investigate the disappearance of a 14-year-old Rosendale Heights girl who had been reported missing from her home since January 28. It was reported she might be in the High Falls-Stone Ridge area. The girl, accompanied by a teen-age boy, was located about 9:30 o'clock Tuesday evening walking along the highway near High Falls, apparently en route home.

The girl and her companion were brought to the Court House where they were questioned by Under Sheriff Clayton W. Vredenburg and Deputy Peterson and a statement taken. The girl told the officers she had left home due to some family difficulties. Under Sheriff Vredenburg reported. The girl was later taken to her home.

Survey of . . .

moment that exist within the fire department.

The department now has practically no reserve fire hose for reloading and placing apparatus back in service after fires, he said. This condition, he explained, "makes it necessary for the apparatus to be placed back in service with less than the required amount of hose on the apparatus until the hose used at a fire is thoroughly dried. This requires four to five days."

Calls Survey Urgent

On the proposed survey of local fire-protection facilities, the chief said:

"I most strongly urge that the City of Kingston make an immediate request for a National Board of Fire Underwriters survey of fire protection facilities of the city."

"This request should be initiated as soon as possible, because it is often one to two years before the NBFU can comply with the request for a survey, due to their shortage of personnel and backlog of requests from other cities."

In the past, he noted, the NBFU conducted such surveys, whether or not requested, every 10 years. The last one here was in 1938. Since then, he said, "great expansion and many physical changes have occurred within the city."

Water Inadequate

In several sections of the city, he reported, "the water system is woefully inadequate to cope with fires that might occur," and in some not enough water is available from mains to cope with even minor fires."

Many such areas, he noted, "contain highly valuable concentrations of industrial and mercantile occupancies, and some of these areas pose real potential conflagration threats. Such surveys are without cost to cities with populations above 25,000, and the chief explained further:

"Long-range comprehensive planning for realignment of the fire service is absolutely essential if the fire service is to keep abreast of times, and adequately provide the necessary fire protection to this city, which is all too rapidly assuming the status of a metropolitan community."

"No comprehensive long-range plan can be formulated unless a thorough analysis of the situation is made. Because the fire insurance rates are directly predicated on the results of the underwriters' survey, no other agency should attempt this evaluation."

No Code Now

On the proposed fire-prevention code, the chief said: "I cannot too strongly stress the need for an adequate fire-prevention code for the city, which, at present, has none. It is now necessary to utilize sections of antiquated fire ordinances, parts of the fire-limits law and the building code, to effect even a semblance of legal fire-prevention enforcement."

The chief asked the Common Council to consider "for adoption and enactment into law" the 1956 code of the NBFU.

On his reported hose-shortage, the chief said, an "increase in pumping capacity is dictated by the fact that because of the inadequacy of the water system in many sections of the city, it is necessary to stretch extraordinarily long lines of hose."

Then because of a friction loss involved, "the normal supply from existing pumping engines is greatly reduced."

Also, he said, "along the waterfront areas, where much of the water system is inadequate, we will more frequently have to resort to drafting water from near-by creeks, rivers, ponds, etc."

Manpower 'Critical'

Existing manpower in the department, he said, "is critical" and the appointment of 10 men and a captain, "would most certainly double the operating efficiency of the paid department at fires."

The chief held that "serious consideration" should be given to "location and construction" of two new volunteer stations to serve areas "which have undergone rapid development in the past decade."

Biggest Fires

Second-alarm fires listed in the report were at the Stuyvesant Hotel on April 18, the Sea Grill Restaurant on April 27, and one at Ann and Chambers street May 9. The Stuyvesant fire was during the early evening, that at the Sea Grill in the early morning, and the other was shortly after noon.

Of the total fire loss of $128,587, the building loss was listed as $100,437 and that on contents was $28,150. Total insurance for

REFUSES TO ANSWER

DiGiacomo said "I might tend to incriminate myself by giving truthful answers." (AP Wirephoto) buildings involved was reported $822,900, and insurance on contents was listed at $131,700. The per capita fire loss was listed as 4.28.

40 Emergency Calls

The department answered 40 calls for emergencies other than fires, and made 1,251 inspections during the year. It used 35,750 feet of 2½-inch, and 25,200 of 1½-inch hose. It raised 1,171 feet of ladders, used 100 gallons of chemicals and 55 salvage covers were spread.

The report noted 93 fires to which the department was not called. These, it said, were mostly caused by matches and cigarettes. The estimated fire loss on them was $6,148. Total insurance on building and contents was $428,925.

Praises Pros, Volunteers

The chief thanked the fire commissioners, men and officers in paid and volunteer units for their work and cooperation during the year. He expressed "highest praise and commendation" for work of the volunteers at several major fires. This work, he said, "was the critical difference between successful extinguishment with minimum losses, rather than disastrous losses and possible conflagration."

Although this work "was universal throughout the volunteer fire service," he said, "I feel that I must single out the newly formed Wicks Salvage Corps, under the direction of Capt. A. Foster Winfield, for their splendid salvage work."

This he said, "not only greatly reduced the annual fire losses, but in many cases made the buildings fit for occupancy immediately after a fire."

Pino Fined $150

For Bookmaking

Anthony Pino, 47, of 112 Roosevelt avenue, was arrested Tuesday afternoon in Port Ewen by Highland state police on a charge of bookmaking, entered a plea of guilty and paid a fine of $150.

Mr. Pino was reportedly arrested in a Port Ewen tavern by Cpl. John Suhaka and Cpl. Al Chieco. He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen.

Held for Questioning

New York, Jan. 30 (AP)—A 40-year-old man wanted for questioning in the triple slaying of teen-aged Chicago brothers 15 months ago was arrested at Idlewild Airport today as he stepped off a plane from Europe. The man was identified as William Rexford Brooke, who was said to have been in Iran making a survey for a petroleum concern. "Will you tell me what this is all about?" he asked newsmen after being taken into custody on a Chicago warrant.

Why We Say--

HONEYMOON

ANCIENT CUSTOM: Newlyweds today seldom connect drinking wine with a honeymoon. But the word originated from an ancient custom among northern nations of Europe by which newly married couples drank wine made from honey (mead) for 30 days or a month after their marriage. Thus the word honeymoon was formed.

IBM Reports

In 1956 were cited by Mr. Watson as including the 305 "Rama," based on a new concept of random access accounting which eliminates group processing of business records and permits processing as individual transactions occur; the 650 "Rama" which combines the high speed and calculating ability of the type 650 electronic computer with a series of disc memory units capable of storing up to 24,000,000 digits on information; an electronic reading device which automatically positions the carriage of IBM electric typewriters; a new model typewriter which automatically types work done by computers, scales, meters and other measuring and recording devices; and an automatic production recording system which obtains variable line information and then calculates, stores and records the information through electric typewriters, punched tapes or cards.

Realigns Organization

In 1956, Mr. Watson reported, IBM continued to realign its organizational structure and decentralize operations by placing each production division. Divisions so dealt with were Data Processing, Supplies, Time Equipment and Special Engineering.

Major projects in 1957, the report stated, include development of a large-scale general computer in a joint effort with the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory of the Atomic Energy Commission. This computer is to be 100 to 200 times faster than any commercial computer now in existence and is planned to effect some 2,000,000 additions a second.

Also, included in defense work is construction of complex electronic computers for the "Sage" air warning system, and engineering and production of the advanced electronic bombing and navigational systems for the Strategic Air Command.

The report noted that in 1956 IBM completed procedures in carrying out terms of the consent decree entered into with the Department of Justice. Accordingly, IBM has offered to sell as well as lease its data-processing machines; offered its tabulating and electronic data-processing machine patents on a reasonable royalty basis; offered the required number of its card presses for sale; and as of Jan. 1, 1957 transferred to Service Bureau Corp., wholly owned but independently operated subsidiary, all of its nationwide service operations.

Payments to the trustee under the IBM retirement plan totaled $6,604,520 in 1956, of which $5,290,182 was from company funds and $1,314,338 from the Watson Fund for supplementing IBM retirement plan.

Bridge Travel

dated March 9, 1955, estimated that the total vehicles using the authority's facilities would number 6,330,000 during the year 1956.

Above Estimate

Increase in actual vehicles using the spans, over the engineers' estimate was 13.3 per cent.

The Mid-Hudson Bridge clocked 4,079,436 vehicles in 1956 against 4,064,031 in 1955. The Bear Mountain showed a total of 1,470,857 last year against 1,495,217 in 1955, and the Rip Van Winkle clocked 1,531,516 in 1956 against 1,690,998 in 1955.

Ferry Count

The Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry counted 95,089 last year against 76,766 in 1955.

The authority's gross revenue from all facilities in 1956 was $2,160,480, and the net revenue before bond service was reported at $1,701,800. The gross revenue was $155,450 over that of 1955 and the net revenue was $176,796 less.

It will cost $24,000,000 to build a two-lane bridge over the Hudson from Newburgh to Beacon, a phase of the report noted. A three-lane bridge there would cost $27,500,000, a four-lane $34,700,000, and if they go for six lanes it would cost $42,000,000.

Local Span $18,500,000

The Kingston-Rhinecliff span's cost is listed at $18,500,000.

It has been indicated, to date, that the Newburgh bridge would be at least four lanes because it would be part of a main route designated by the federal government. The span there would be about 1,000 feet shorter than that at Kingston, but the higher cost results from river conditions at the proposed site of the Newburgh-Beacon span.

Budget Has $846,000 For Fair Improvement

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP)—Gov. Harriman says his 1957-58 budget includes a proposal for an $846,000 improvement program at the state fair grounds in Syracuse.

He said last night he would ask: $425,000 for dormitory facilities and barns in the youth area; $317,000 for modernizing the electrical system; $64,000 for heating-air conditioning in parts of the women's building and $40,000 for a permanent cafeteria.

Harriman outlined his plan at the annual dinner of the New York State Assn. of Agriculture Fair Societies, which earlier said member fairs had "desperate construction needs" and asked for state aid.

About 400 delegates attended the two-day meeting, which closed last night. They adopted a resolution asking that unused funds in the pari-mutuel harness tracks improvement account be turned over to the farm fairs. The harness tracks contribute to the account some funds that ordinarily would be included in their state taxes. They are eligible for reimbursement for expenditures for construction improvements but the state takes over funds unused at the end of each year.

The governor's proposal for a modern electrical system at the state fair is the result of a power failure during the 1956 fair. Harriman was in Syracuse at the time.

He will present his budget to the legislature on Friday. George C. Sippell of Buffalo was elected president of the association to succeed Edward L. Hardeman of Elmira, who became treasurer.

Other officers are: Langley V. Collyer, Cobleskill, first vice president; Philip P. Caird, Schaghticoke, second vice president, and Maurice J. Finnegan, Malone, secretary.

Drivers Must Pass

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 30 (AP)—Michigan is turning out a new crop of model young drivers this year to go along with its new model cars. As of Feb. 1, no Michigan youngster under 18 will be licensed to drive unless he has passed an approved course in driver education. Other states have driver education courses in the schools, but Michigan is the first to compel the youngsters to pass the course if they want to drive before 18. The plan is being closely watched by at least a dozen other states, anxious to see from statistics if there is a resulting drop in the young driver accident rate. "The idea behind the whole thing is to catch them young and train them," said Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction.

Seeks Legal Spouse

New York, Jan. 30 (AP)—Millionaire John Jacob Astor wishes the Manhattan State Supreme Court would hurry up and tell him which of his two wives is his legal spouse. Through his attorney, Barent Ten Eyck, the pudgy society sportsman told Justice Samuel Gold yesterday that he wants to know pretty soon because income tax filing time is rolling around. Astor said he was paying a total of $3,250 monthly alimony to his two wives, the former Gertrude Gretsche of Brooklyn (wife No. 2) and the former Dolores (Dolly) Fullman of Miami Beach, Fla. (wife No. 3).

Six-year-old Johnnie was demonstrating for his mother some of the things he'd learned at school. He was especially proud of the fact he knew Washington had been first President of the country, Lincoln the 16th and that Eisenhower now holds the office.
Mother—Who was before Eisenhower?
Johnnie wasn't sure.

Mother (helping)—I'll give you a hint. He played the piano.
Johnnie (beaming)—Oh, I know. Liberace!
When you no longer start your car with a mighty leap from a standing start but rather ease it into motion after a moment of idling, when you do not gun the engine until it is a high roar, and when you turn corners at a reasonable speed without the tires screaming and imminent danger of overturning, you are definitely middle-aged.
A tourist was enjoying the wonders of California. As they passed through a grove of citrus trees, the tourist remarked:
Tourist—What beautiful grapefruit!
Native Jokerster—Oh, those lemons are a bit small, owing to a comparatively bad season.
Tourist—And what are those enormous blossoms?
Native Jokerster—Just a patch of buttercups.
The tourist said no more until they reached the Sacramento River.
Tourist (grasping the idea)—Ah, somebody's radiator is leaking!

Think It Through

By E. F. HUTTON

YEAR-ROUND SANTA CLAUS

Yuletide news reported that a man was about to buy several bottles of Scotch whiskey as Christmas presents when he read that Britain had "touched" our Export-Import bank for another half billion.

He decided that his dear Uncle Sam had already sent enough of his tax dollars abroad. So he bought Kentucky Bourbon instead.

Many million other Americans must feel equally frustrated. They are beginning to resent not only their taxes for "foreign aid," but especially political appeals that they give more to charitable organizations to send abroad.

When it comes to charity, they may prefer to help a poor American boy or girl to go to college than to help a poor Egyptian or Polynesian; or the Boy Scouts rather than the Hottentots; or the Salvation Army rather than Tito's army.

Nehru seemed pleased when he headed home. And there were rumors that the Communist Tito might be invited to visit us; rumors, too, that Nasser will be bought off, in addition to our paying the bulk of the cost of clearing the Suez Canal of the wrecks with which Nasser blocked it. And so on, and on.

With the American people deeper in debt and the dollar worth less than ever before, the Government Bonds selling at a new low, and having sent 55 billion $'s overseas since 1946, isn't it time to take a new look at international charity?

Editors Told Politicians
Threaten Freedom of Press

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP)—A Florida newspaper editor says that politicians today are draping "a paper curtain" of secrecy around large segments of free American government.

V. M. Newton of the Tampa Tribune made the statement yesterday in a speech read for him at a meeting of the New York State Society of Newspaper Editors.

Newton, chairman of the Sigma Delta Chi Committee on Freedom of Information, was unable to attend the meeting. Sigma Delta Chi is a national journalism fraternity.

Extending "curtain" of secrecy, Newton said, "has been securely pulled over virtually all of federal executive government, and it now is being extended into federal judicial government and into all lower levels of American government."

"We did not have this secrecy in government 25 years ago," he continued. "And if the politician is permitted to extend it in the next 25 years as he developed it in the last 25 years, I can safely predict that freedom of the press and all the other American freedoms will be irreparably damaged."

"The American politician has gone ahead in developing his new philosophy that the people should be satisfied with the decisions of government after he had made them without that great safeguard of freedom, the prior restraint of an informed public opinion."

Newton said that politicians had done this "through the means of the biggest bureaucracy the world has ever seen and an apathetic public."

Proposes State Law

Newton and Victor E. Blue-dorn of Chicago, executive director of Sigma Delta Chi, urged the State Law requiring all governing bodies to transmit business in public sessions. New York has no such law.

Blue-dorn said that 22 states now have statutes guaranteeing public access to the records of government. In the other 26 states, he said, the politician can "close the records of government for his private benefit."

The editors closed their three-day meeting by unanimously approving a resolution opposing the new Youth Court Act. The resolution said:

"The New York State Society of Newspaper Editors on Aug. 7, 1956, at Potsdam, N. Y., asked that the Youth Court Act be cancelled and annulled as an abridgement of the people's right to know."

"Since that time, the temporary commission on the courts has proposed certain amendments which would modify that act. These amendments do not meet the objections of the society, which hereby reaffirms its resolution of Aug. 7, 1956."

The Legislature yesterday passed a measure to delay the effective date of the act until April 1, 1958. It had been scheduled to go into effect tomorrow.

Plattekill

Plattekill, Jan. 29 — Word has been received here of the death of John Allen Downer, 70, at his home on the Lattintown road, Marlboro, Sunday, Jan. 20. Survivors include his wife, the former Anna Mertes of Plattekill, whose parents and brothers Martin and Nicholas, lived in Plattekill over a period of many years.

The family is well-known here. Funeral services and burial in St. Mary's Cemetery, Marlboro, were conducted Thursday.

S/Sgt. and Mrs. Melvin Henthorn became the parents of a daughter, Deborah born Jan. 14 at West Point Hospital. Other local people celebrating their birthdays on Jan. 14, were Vernard B. Wager and Geraldine Scott.

Onury Orlovski will assume his duties as president of the Democratic Club of the town of Plattekill at the next meeting, Tuesday, Feb. 12, 8 p. m. at the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall. Mr. Orlovski will succeed Harry Imfield of Modena.

Questions -- Answers

Q—Are coffee grounds valuable fertilizers?

A—Coffee grounds have little actual fertilizer value. They do, however, add organic matter to the soil, and enough grounds help to make it friable. Their reaction to the soil is slightly acid.

Q—Has any president ever been elected unanimously by the Electoral College?

A—Yes, George Washington. In the election of Monroe in 1820, one elector voted against Monroe so that Washington would stand alone as the only unanimously elected president.

Q—What is embraced in the term "top soil"?

A—Top soil includes all dead organic matter in any stage of decomposition, but does not include living material contained in it.

Wilma Montesi's
Death Accident

Venice, Italy, Jan. 30 (AP)—Wilma Montesi's father, a humble carpenter, testified today that his daughter's death was an accident and "it is absurd to think of it as a crime."

Rodolfo Montesi took the stand as the trial resumed in the scandal-packed case that began after Wilma's scantily clad body was found nearly four years ago on Ostia Beach, near Rome.

"Wilma was a really good girl," her father testified. "She was too loyal, too honest to lead a double life, as has been said. All these horrible lies said against her have made her die twice."

The father said he believed the 20-year-old girl had gone to Ostia "to wash her feet in sea water to try to cure an inflammation she had."

He added that he had found a nurse who had been on the beach and who told him she saw Wilma arrive there alone. He said the nurse identified Wilma from photographs.

A verdict of accidental drowning was given after Wilma's body was found. The prosecution now contends she became unconscious at a drug orgy in a game preserve lodge owned by Rome playboy Ugo Montagna and that Gianpiero Piccioni, 36-year-old son of a former foreign minister, left her at the water's edge to drown.

Authority Names Month

Boston, Jan. 30 (AP)—A 124-mile east-west toll road from the New York state line to Route 128 just west of Boston is expected to be ready for traffic in May, the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority says. The agency, in its final quarterly report for 1956, said yesterday that original plans called for a May opening of the superhighway. The section is referred to as the "initial" pike. The remainder of the route into downtown Boston has not been determined.

Ask Cultural Center

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP)—A special commission today presented to President Eisenhower and to Congress recommendations for a 35 to 40 million dollar cultural center for the nation's capital. Funds to build the center would be raised by public subscription. Mrs. Eugene Meyer, chairman of the commission, wrote in the group's 95-page report that the nation could "feel only embarrassment" at the present "poverty of Washington's housing for music, drama, dance and public discussion." Mrs. Meyer is the wife of the board chairman of the Washington Post Co.

Merritt Scores 36 as Middletown Defeats Maroon, 71-54

MR. TROUBLE—Jim Merritt loops in one of his dazzling shots as Kingston's Bob Strong stands starry-eyed in last night's DUSO encounter at the field house. Merritt hit on shots like this for 36 points to equal a Middletown record as the Middies won, 71-54. George Uhl (9) of the Maroon and the Middies' Tom Diana watch the action. (Freeman photo)

Middle Guard Equals All-Time Record for School

Smith Tabs 21 as KHS Suffers Costly Setback

Time has run out on Kingston High's chances in the DUSO League basketball championship race. Flashy guard Jim Merritt wrote finis to the Maroons' long-shot hopes with a glittering 36-point performance that drove Middletown to a 71-54 victory last night at the field house.

Merritt's output tied an all-time single game scoring standard for the Middies. Charlie Springstead scored 36 last season in a game against Monticello. A combination of Merritt's all-around prowess and a tightly-knit zone defense kayoed KHS' last glimmering hope of getting into the middle of the flag fight. The Maroons started on a comeback a fortnight ago which some thought would swoop them into a challenging position. But now at the halfway mark in the schedule, they're four games off the pace and seemingly out of it.

3-5 DUSO Record
The setback makes their DUSO record 3-5. They are solidly entrenched in seventh place. Against all opponents, their mark is 4-6.

Merritt was just too much for Kingston as he put on the top individual performance here of any player this year. The slim senior connected on just about everything he threw up and could easily have set a new record if time hadn't run out. His mates cooperated all the way, even to the extent of purposely looking for him to pass the ball to near the end.

Since it was Merritt's night, it was only fitting that he be the one to break open the game at its seams. He launched a 14-point spurt to open the second half, stringing together 8 straight points as the Middies left KHS at the starting gate, 43-29. The rest of the way was easy for the invaders as they coasted in.

Even-Up Game
The contest was an even-up affair until Merritt went on his spree. At intermission the game was even-steven at 29-all. Then Merritt clicked off three baskets and a brace of free throws and the Middies were off and running.

Bill Marx hit a bucket and Merritt came back with another two-pointer before Tom Diana capped the rally with a pair of free throws.

George Uhl finally broke the drought with two foul shots at 4:09. Bob Smith came along a minute later to score KHS' first and only field goal of the period. Two free throws each by Bob Strong and Larry Johnson rounded out Kingston's period total of just 8 points. The three-quarter score read 46-37.

The Middies rolled up 27 points in the final period to climax their handsome win. Merritt accounted for more than half of the tallies (14) as he enjoyed his biggest period of the game. In the first stanza he made 6 points, second 4 and third 12. The points were amassed on 14 field goals and 8 for 12 free throws.

Smith High With 21
Bob Smith was KHS' point leader with 21. Tony Grimaldi was held to a season's low of 10 as the Middies bottled him up by collapsing and jamming up the middle with their 2-3 zone. Tony, who was playing only his fourth game since reporting after recuperating from a kidney ailment, tallied 7 of his points in the last period, but by then the damage was done.

Middletown went all the way with five players—a real iron man stunt. Bill Marx, a jumping shooter forward, threw in 20 points and played a strong board game. John Price, 6-4 center, was also tough on defense and contributed 8 tallies. Gordie Bertholf and Diana scored 4 and 3, respectively to round out the point-making.

Plenty of Fouls
The game was unusually rough with 36 fouls being called. Kingston had 21 called against it including five to Grimaldi who fouled out late in the game. Strong, Smith and Uhl all had four charged against them and Johnson, the other starter, three. Kingston shot a little more better than 34 per cent. It connected on 16 of 43 attempts. At the foul line it made 16 of 23 tries.

Kingston's next start is Friday at league-leading Poughkeepsie. The game will be played in the new Forbus street building gym.

Poughkeepsie Trims Ellenville, 70-61

Longobardi Hits 27 for Pioneers

Tannenbaum Unloads 28 for Blue Devils

Unheralded Don Longobardi led Poughkeepsie High to its seventh DUSO League win in eight games with a 27-point effort as the Pioneers tripped fading Ellenville Central, 70-61, in their first game at the new Forbus street building gym.

A goodly throng of 1,100 was on hand for the unveiling of the shiny new court and Longobardi sent them home happy. The steady guard, who is known more for his defensive prowess, picked up the scoring slack left by the departure of All-DUSO forward Stu Sonne in brilliant fashion.

Along with veteran Lee J. Nelson, who counted 19, Longobardi kept PHS on top all the way, although at times the Blue Devils made it close. The win increased the front-runners lead over idle Newburgh and Port Jervis to 1 full game.

Tannenbaum Hits 28
Mike Tannenbaum tried to carry the visitors alone and wound up as the game's high scorer with 28 points. Bob Gorman chipped in with 17 and Jim Reed hit 10.

Alan Smith, who took the place of Ronnie Jones, PHS' other mid-year graduated regular, contributed 12 points in his first start at center.

Poughkeepsie held leads of 20-13 and 32-31 in the first half, but caught fire in the third period to go out in front, 53-46, at the three-quarter mark.

The loss for Ellenville was its third against five wins and topped them out of a tie for second and into fourth.

Kingston is Poughkeepsie's next opponent Friday at the new gym.

In Overtime Game

St. Mary's overcame a 10-point deficit in the final period to tie St. Peter's, then bowed in overtime in a CYO basketball game, 36-34.

Karl Puttlitz drilled the winning basket with one minute remaining in the overtime. St. Mary's missed their try for the equalizer and John Bruck and Ray Radel froze the ball for final seconds.

Radel Scores 15
Radel and Bruck set the pace as St. Peter's led 4-2 at the quarter and 16-8 at the half. St. Mary's bounced back with a pair of 12-point periods to tie the regulation at 32-32.

Ray Radel led St. Peter's with 15 points and Bruck dunked 14. Terry Corkery was high for St. Mary's with 13 points.

Huguenot Tourney Scheduled

Women's Tenpin Event to Start On March 30

The second annual Huguenot Women's Handicap bowling tournament will be rolled at the New Paltz Bowling Center on March 30-31 and April 6-7, Fred Bennett has announced.

The tournament, which attracted 30 teams last year, is sanctioned by the Woman's International Bowling Congress.

The tournament, has the added advantage of rolling against the AMF automatic pinsetters, so there will be no pinboy problem. One prize will be awarded for each five team entries. Trophies will be awarded to the sponsor of the winning team and individuals.

Mary Anzivini, chairman of the tournament committee, says it will be a 100 per cent handicap off 850-scratch tournament, with a maximum of 225 pins per game. The entry fee is $20.00 per team. Other members of the committee are Nell Alverson, secretary; and Ellen Bennett, treasurer. The estimated prize list is $550.00 based on 50 entries.

The tournament is hoping for a large entry from the Kingston Woman's Bowling Association and a goal of 100 teams has been set.

Entries with checks should be made payable to Huguenot Women's Tournament and mailed to New Paltz Bowling Center, North Chestnut street, New Paltz. The deadline for entries is March 15 and averages are official as of Feb. 1.

Doug Leaman, who played with Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain on the championship Overlook High team in Philadelphia, is starring for the Penn Military College five.

Red Wings Name Deal as Manager

Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP)—The Rochester Red Wings in the International Baseball League have named Ellis (Cot) Deal, former major league pitcher, player-manager of the community-owned club.

General manager George Sisler Jr. announced Deal's appointment last night.

Deal, 34, of Oklahoma City, has been with the Red Wings for the past four years as player and coach. Earlier in his career he pitched for the Boston Red Sox and the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Red Wings were purchased by local interests from the St. Louis Cardinals last year after a community fund drive.

Four Area Clubs To Compete in Belleayre Races

The Rip Van Winkle Ski Council Derby, open to men, women and juniors, will be held Sunday, Feb. 3, at Belleayre Ski Center.

Four Hudson valley ski clubs—Trail Sweepers of Kingston, Belleayre Ski Club, Hudson Valley Ski Club and the Eastern Orange County Ski Club—will compete in the down hill ski race. The event was postponed from Jan. 27.

Susanne Indzonka, publicity chairman for the event, said racers should sign up at 8:45 a. m. and the race will begin around 10 a. m. for Senior men and women, as well as Junior boy and girl classifications.

Prizes will be awarded in each of the four divisions.

Officials for the day include Charles Nebel, William Hinsdale, Cornie Miller, Ed Griffin,

8th Win of Season

Kelly, Short Spark Jayvees to 52-40 Win

John Kelly and Bob Short paced the high-riding Kingston High Jayvees to a 52-40 win over Middletown.

Kelly scored 21 and Short 18 as Coach Bill Hurley's strong junior team captured their eighth game in 10 starts. The win was their fourth in succession.

Short got 12 of his total in the second half when it counted, including 10 in the third period when KHS splurged for 17 points and a 40-30 lead.

Kelly divided his scoring through each period, netting 7 in the first, 4 each in the second and third and 6 in the fourth. Center Jeff Rosen topped the Middies with 15. High-scoring Tom Slover was held down to 9.

Don Donahue, Lillian Draper and Nat Vidulich.

Kingston's only losses have been to Arlington, which it later avenged, and unbeaten Newburgh Free Academy.

Mustion Registers 37 as Rondout Valley Wins 11th Straight

Ace Center Hits Career High in 78 to 72 Triumph

There seems to be no ceiling for Rondout Valley Central's center ace John Mustion. The rugged 6-foot pivot scored a career high total of 37 as undefeated RVCS ran its winning streak to 11 straight games with a hard fought 78-72 non-league victory over Montgomery High at Kerhonkson yesterday.

Mustion probably could have broken the 40 mark if it wasn't for some faulty foul shooting. He connected for 15 field goals and made just 50 per cent of his free tosses 7 for 14. As it was it marked the second best individual effort by a UCAL player this season. Only Billy Zeilman's 41 points for Saugerties at the expense of Hunter-Tannersville is better.

27 Previous High

Mustion's previous high was 27 against Liberty. In only two starts has he been held under 20 points. Against all opponents he has racked up 221 points for a 22.2 per game average.

Rondout had to hustle all the way to gain the decision over the Marauders. Montgomery pulled into a 19-16 first quarter lead, but the home team bounced back for 25 points and a 41-37 advantage at halftime. After Montgomery outscored Rondout 22-20 in the third period, Coach Chick Meehan's hand locked it up with a 17-point last period.

12 Points Each

Bill Mustion and Bill Smith each contributed 12 points to the victory. Tom Gilman made 9 and Art Stockin 8.

Charlie Judson, Montgomery's stellar redheaded guard canned 19 to top his club. Lauren Fleichmann hit 17.

Montgomery won the jayvee game, 36-24, as Sam Groome and Bill Lare caged 10 each. Jim Smith notched 8 for Rondout.

$86,000 Yearling Sells for $11,000

Miami, Fla., Jan. 29 (P)—A colt which cost a record $86,000 as a yearling was sold in his paddock at Hialeah Park today as a four-year-old for $11,000.

The thoroughbred, Nalur, son of Nasrullah-Lurline B., won only two cheap races in three years, and was bought by Ralph Lowe or Midland, Tex., the owner of Gallant Man.

St. Peter's '57 Eyes Tourney Bid

Jersey City, N. J., Jan. 30 (P)—Little St. Peter's College—not much more than a dot on the basketball map—suddenly has blossomed into a team to be considered for a post-season tournament spot, probably the National Invitation.

To date, the Peacocks, as they are called around these parts, have won 12 games without a loss this season. Added to the six they won at the end of the 1955-56 campaign, they have a streak of 18.

"But," cautioned their 49-year-old coach, Don Kennedy, today, "we still have a tough road ahead of us in the next 10 games and the kids are sensible enough to take them one at a time."

The road is tough, indeed. Kennedy's lads play Siena, which has won only one game, tomorrow, so that should pose no problem. But a week from Saturday night, they face their sternest test—St. Bonaventure has won 68 games straight in its own lair, so the Peacocks' task is going to be monumental, to say the least. They also must face Seton Hall and Brooklyn St. Francis, two more toughies, in order to get through unscathed.

St. Peter's didn't create much of a stir until a little over a week ago when it licked Manhattan, winner of the ECAC Holiday Festival, 79-71.

Iron Liege Wins at Hialeah

Miami, Jan. 29 (P)—It was just a breeze for Calumet Farm's pronounced choice, Iron Liege, in the $5,000 Driftwood Purse at Hialeah Park today, the colt winning as he pleased under Willie Hartack for his second score in as many starts this winter. Coupled with Boon Blaze, Iron Liege paid $2.80, $2.30 and $2.10, shortest priced winner of the meeting.

Woodstock Jaycees Plan Meeting on Little League

Junior Chamber of Commerce of Woodstock has scheduled an open meeting to explore the possibility of organizing a Little League in Woodstock on Tuesday, Feb. 5, at 8 p. m. at the Woodstock village school.

Vernon J. Kelder of Ellenville, the District and Regional representative of Little League, will be the principal speaker. He has been active in the formation of many leagues in the county and is thoroughly familiar with organizational details.

Principal Walter S. Van Wagenen, chairman of the Woodstock Recreation Commission, also will be present to answer questions.

Douglas Camman, chairman of Little League baseball for the Woodstock Jaycees, said the purpose of the meeting is to determine if there is sufficient community interest to support a Little League organization. All residents of the Woodstock area are invited to the meeting.

Watrous Leads Century Golf

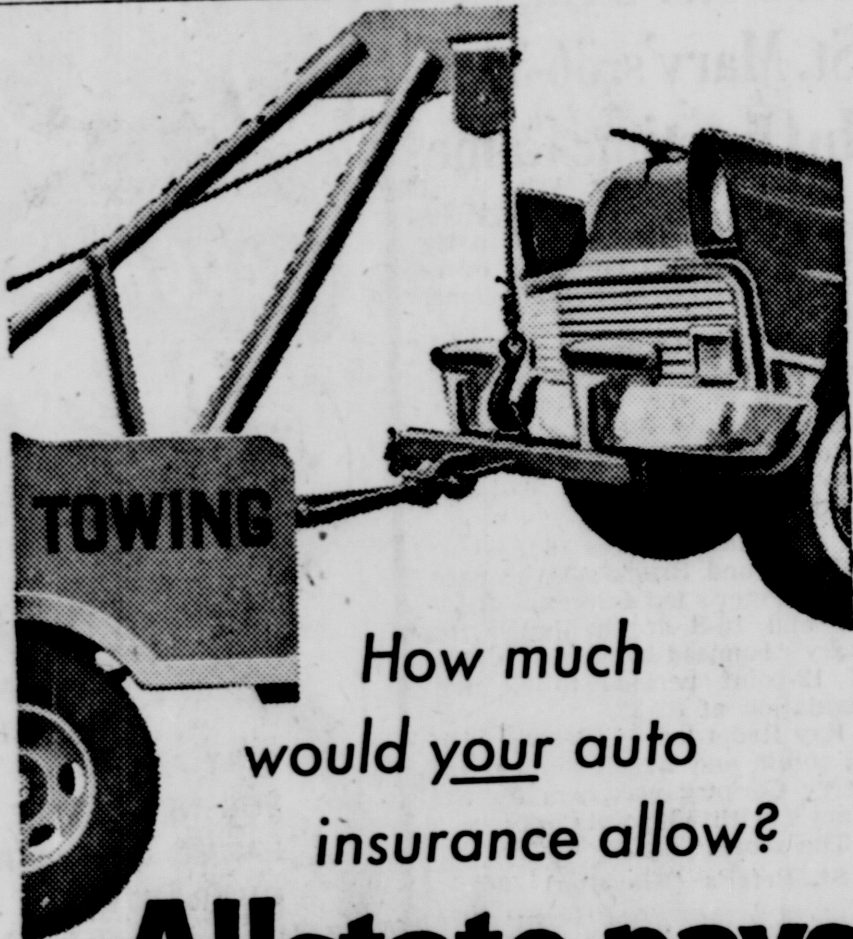

Dunedin, Fla., Jan. 29 (P)—Al Watrous, the PGA's new Senior champion from Birmingham, Mich., today shot a five-under-par 67 to lead the first round of the Quarter Century Club.

Clarence Doser of Vero Beach, Fla., and Guy Paulsen of Ruthersford, Md., were tied for second with 68s. The 36-hole tournament is for players who have been PGA members 25 years or more.

Mager-Meckel Chess Winners

John D. Mager, president of the King's Knight Chess Club, and Eugene Meckel shared first and second prize in the rapid transit tournament staged by the club.

Jerome Singer took third prize. The Kings club will play a team match with the Chadwicks of Poughkeepsie on Wednesday, Feb. 6, in a return match at the Jewish Community Center.

Blacktops, Wimpy's Score in 'B' League

Nagele Hits 30 For 'B' Leaders

Two points down at the quarter, the league-leading Kingston Blacktops rallied to trounce Boulevard Gulf, 76-60, last night at their seventh victory in eight YMCA "B" League starts.

Wimpy's No. 2 climbed over 500 marks with a 62-57 win over Corner Rest in the other game of the twinbill. The Grillmen now have a 4-3 record.

Blacktops turned on the pressure with a 10-6 bulge in the second period to lead 36-25 at the half. Two 20-point quarters after the intermission completed the rout. It was the fourth Boulevard setback in seven games.

Nagele Scores 23

Richie Nagele and Butch Tomaseskie combined for a 52-point barrage for Blacktops, the former hitting 30 on 14 baskets and two free throws. Tomaseskie fired 22. Ray Lucas dunked 16 to lead the Grillmen. Joe Tremper canned 13 and Walt Johanningsmeir (there's that name again!) contributed 11.

A fast getaway and Ronnie Brandt's 26 points were highlights in Wimpy's hard earned win over Corner Rest. The Grills led 13-3 at the quarter. Brandt hit a dozen times from scrimmage and added a pair of free throws. Jim Woods (13) and Bob Davis (12) also made contributions to the Wimpy triumph. The Madison boys—Don and Dave—canned 14 points each for the Corner Rest. Don Ferraro and Ed Van Loan shared 21.

Duke Latest Upset Victim

North Carolina Challengers In ACC Falling Off Pace

(By the Associated Press)
If Frank McGuire and his top-ranked North Carolina Tar Heels don't watch out, those upsets they foresee hovering over every Atlantic Coast Conference game aren't likely to be worth even getting jittery about.

The nation's No. 1 club and front-runner in the ACC basketball race has spent about as profitable a midsemester hiatus as possible, what with one challenging team after another getting its lumps while North Carolina watches.

By the time the Tar Heels get back into the conference swing—and that's still a week away—their main search may be for a contender of any sort, let alone one that has a chance for the title.

Duke Beaten
Duke's loss to Wake Forest last night, 77-59, left unheralded Maryland closest to the unbeaten Tar Heels, who've accounted for six of their 15 season victories in league play. Maryland is 6-2 followed by Duke 4-2 and Wake Forest 3-2. Not another team in the league has lost fewer than four games. North Carolina

State, usually the team to beat, has dropped five while picking up only two victories—the second of which was an 80-63 romp over Virginia last night.

As McGuire says, ACC teams do a good job of knocking off each other. He forgot to say "North Carolina excepted."

Louisville Wins

Louisville, ranked third in the new Associated Press poll, defeated Loyola of the South, 79-53. St. Louis broke a 10-year jinx by downing Oklahoma A&M 49-45. West Virginia fattened its Southern Conference lead by defeating Virginia Tech 59-54. Oklahoma City routed New Mexico 107-86, and Notre Dame whipped Indiana 94-82 in other college features.

Wake Forest hit 62 per cent of its shots (29 of 47) in routing Duke. The Deacons, now ranked 13th nationally, have won five in a row and 12 of their last 13.

Arkansas broke away from a tie in the closing minutes to defeat Texas Christian 62-58 in a Southwest Conference tussle, and Dick Wright's 26 points were high in Furman's 89-74 defeat of Wofford. Closest game was St. Francis of Pennsylvania and American International, won by St. Francis 71-69 on John Novalesi's tap-in with two seconds left.

Showers Greet Phoenix Golfers

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 30 (AP)—The weatherman greeted the golf pros on the winter tour with some mad news today as pro-amateur play began for the $15,000 Phoenix Open.

Intermittent showers, said the U. S. Weather Bureau, at least until tomorrow or so.

That won't leave the 6,700-yard, par-70 layout at the Arizona country club in the best of shape, even though the grass has been dyed green specially for the tourney.

Three days of rain already have taken the bounce out of the fairways, and even if it continues to sprinkle the show will go on.

"It's not giving anything so far as roll is concerned," said Ed Furgol, who won the 1954 tourney when it was played at the smaller Phoenix country club. "You have to get your distance in the air."

Heat Wave In Argentina

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Jan. 30 (P)—Argentina is suffering its worst heat wave in the century it has been keeping weather records.

The temperature soared to 109.9 degrees yesterday in this capital city of four million persons, the highest mark since weather records were started in 1856. Eleven heat deaths were reported in Buenos Aires and 7 in suburban Avellaneda. There were many sunstroke cases.

Seasons south of the equator are the reverse of those to the north.

Cold, Snow Menu For Next 5 Days

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30 (P)—The extended weather forecasts for New York state, prepared by the U. S. Weather Bureau, for the period from 7:30 p. m. today, to 7:30 p. m. Monday:

Eastern New York—Moderately cold winter weather is expected the next 5 days, through Monday, with daily mean temperatures averaging about one to 3 degrees below normal. Precipitation, mostly snow, will average up to ½ inch in water content, cold at the beginning, with a general snow, followed by moderation Friday. Colder again over the weekend, with snow likely again Sunday or Monday.

Western New York—Changeable weather is indicated, with temperatures averaging near or slightly below normal. Moderating, followed by a general snow Thursday and Friday, snow flurries and colder Saturday. Moderating Sunday and Monday, with another general snow likely. Heavy snow accumulations are expected, with water equivalent of nearly one inch.

Temperature Normals—Normal daytime high temperatures in upstate New York at this time of year are in the upper 20s and lower 30s. Normal overnight lows range from 8 to 17 degrees.

Gas Refunds Due

Washington, Jan. 30 (P)—The government estimated today that after July 1 it will have to refund about 110 million dollars of federal gasoline taxes to farmers and operators of certain machinery. The bulk of the refunds, about 90 million dollars, will go to farmers, the Internal Revenue Service said. It estimated four million dollars will be claimed by operators of buses on local transit systems, and about 16 million by users of non-highway vehicles and equipment. Applications may be filed any time after July 1 for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30. Farmers can claim refund of the full three cents per gallon federal tax if the gasoline was "used on a farm for farming purposes."

Strike Appears Broken

Algiers, Jan. 30 (P)—French troops appear today to have broken the back of a Nationalist strike. The National Liberation Front (FLN) called for an eight-day strike three days ago to coincide with a UN Assembly debate on the Nationalist rebellion. But the debate has been postponed until Monday. The strike, a clear success in much of Algeria Monday, began to fall apart yesterday under stern French measures which included forcible opening of Arab stores and requisitioning of laborers.

Nuclear Speedup

Washington (P)—Tires could be vulcanized with steam produced by nuclear energy far more efficiently than by present methods, says a University of Michigan nuclear engineer. Richard A. Balzhiser told the American Nuclear Society that a 75-million watt reactor could vulcanize 17,000 tires daily compared to the present 12,500-tire capacity of a conventional plant.

NEW AUTOMATIC BAGGER—Val Earle, (left), a representative of the John Bean Manufacturing Company of Lansing, Mich., and William E. Haviland of Highland, area John Bean dealer, stand beside a new automatic bagger for bagging apples and other fruit products. The bagger has been experimented with in the Appalachian valley of Virginia. On view at the Eastern meeting of the New York State Horticultural Society at the armory. (Freeman photo)

DUSTING PLANE AT ARMORY—Don Webber of Germantown, who operates a dusting service for farmers, stands beside his Piper Cub which is specially fitted with equipment for dusting orchards and fields with insecticide, moss peat, fertilizer, etc. The plane is on view in the state armory during the three-day Eastern meeting of the New York State Horticultural Society which opened today. (Freeman photo) known crop duster of the Hudson valley area. The plane is equipped with a "venturi," a kind of air tunnel beneath the fuselage into which the dust, pest moss, fertilizer, etc., is fed from a large bin. The wind pouring through the venturi produces a thick stream of dust. The automatic bagger for apples and other fruits and vegetables is the product of the John Bean Co., Lansing, Mich. It has reportedly been experimented with successfully in the Appalachian valley of Virginia.

Hail Project Popular

The Hudson Valley Hail Suppression booth is a fascinating one, with a demonstration generator and hail suppression unit on display. The exhibit is sponsored by the Hudson Valley Crop Services Cooperative of which Walter Schreiber of Red Hook is president.

Operating the generators in the Hudson valley area is the Weather Modification Co., San Jose, Calif. Approximately 100 of the generators have been placed throughout the Hudson valley.

The generators produce silver iodide which pour into the atmosphere from a small "chimney" cylinder. The particles rise on air currents and preclude the forming of hail.

According to Mr. Schreiber, the process doesn't provide "100 per cent control" but is highly effective. He said growers in the valley had been "well satisfied" with the results of the hail suppression program.

4-H Contests Scheduled

In conjunction with the show there will be 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America contests and demonstrations.

The 4-H Club demonstrations and pie-baking contest will be held Thursday morning and afternoon at the armory with presentation of awards at 3 p. m. Ten counties will be represented. Contestants in the apple pie contest will be: Sherrill Nesbitt, Delaware county; Loretta Holmes, Columbia county; Joyce Brandow, Greene county; Linda Sinclair, Dutchess county; Cynthia Schneider, Nassau county; Joyce Phillips, Montgomery county; Enid Goetchiuss, Ulster county; Marie DeMarmels, Orange county, and Beverly Freeman, Rensselaer county.

To Use Other Fruits

Hostesses will be Mrs. Natalie Straub, Greene county, co-chairman; Miss Margaret Gippert, Ulster county, co-chairman; Mrs. Vernon Goetchiuss, Ulster county, luncheon chairman; Margaret Mary Gaffney, Enid Goetchiuss, Kathy McCord and Laura Baroncelli, general 4-H Club guides, and Miss Patricia French, Ulster county 4-H Club assistant agent, in charge of general plans.

Assist 4-H Program

Assisting in 4-H Club home-making activities at the show will be the following:

Robert A. Dyer and Rhoda M. Peck, Columbia county; Harold E. Carley and Laurin Lasher, Delaware county; H. H. Tozier, Jr., and Barbara J. Reed, Dutchess county; Steward Fish and Natalie Straub, Greene county; Rodney F. Hommel, Montgomery county; James Spero and Dixie Davis, Orange county; Wayne E. Willis and Joyce S. Jones, Rensselaer county; Edmund R. Bower and Miss French, Ulster county. Also assisting is the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. Stoves have been loaned by the Terwilliger Bros., Kingston.

Kerhonkson P-TA Will Meet February 6

The Kerhonkson Parent-Teachers Association will hold its next regular meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 6, in the Kerhonkson High School Auditorium at 8 p. m.

The regular business meeting will be followed by a basketball clinic conducted by John Meehan, basketball coach of the Rondout Valley School.

The purpose of the clinic will be to familiarize the parents and interested fans with the fundamentals and interpretations of the game. The undefeated Rondout Valley team will assist Mr. Meehan by demonstrating plays while Coach Meehan explains them. Each year rules are changed and modified.

Backs Dulles

Ike Labels Guard Talk As Unwise

Washington, Jan. 30 (P)—President Eisenhower said today Secretary Wilson made a very unwise statement in saying that draft dodging developed in National Guard enlistments during the Korean War.

But Eisenhower told a news conference he is sure that Wilson's main interest—just as it is his—is to try to assure that the guard is a well trained military unit in event of any emergency.

Greatest Secretary

Eisenhower also said he is standing by his statement of several months ago that Secretary of State Dulles is the greatest secretary in that field in history.

Commenting on attacks on Dulles by Democrats in Congress, Eisenhower said Dulles has wisdom, experience and knowledge possessed by no other man in his field.

The latest controversy swirling around Wilson was touched off two days ago when the secretary of defense said before a House committee that "a sort of scandal... a draft-dodging business" turned up in National Guard enlistments during the Korean war.

Asked today whether he shares Wilson's view on that, Eisenhower shot back that his questioner knew better than that.

Made Without Thought

The President said Wilson was short-cutting when he made that assertion. It was, Eisenhower said, a very unwise statement made by Wilson without thinking.

Although criticized by guard spokesmen and some members of Congress for his Monday statement, Wilson declined to back away from it yesterday.

Instead, when interviewed after a call at the White House, Wilson in effect repeated his statement and told newsmen he saw no reason whatsoever to apologize for it.

All Within Law

Wilson said then it had not figured in his meeting with Eisenhower.

In talking about the matter today, Eisenhower said he wanted to emphasize that anything the National Guard has done has been done within limitations of the law.

He went on to note that youths aged 17 to 18½ may enlist in the Guard. Eisenhower said he long has struggled to make the Guard an efficient, well trained outfit capable of protecting the nation.

Then, defending a new Pentagon policy, Eisenhower backed Wilson in saying that Guard recruits should get six months of basic military training instead of 11 weeks the Guard favors.

Eisenhower said he was not pointing a finger at the Guard, and that he was sure Wilson was not doing so.

It was at that point that Wilson was short-cutting in discussing the situation, and that in doing so that he made a very unwise, unthinking statement.
